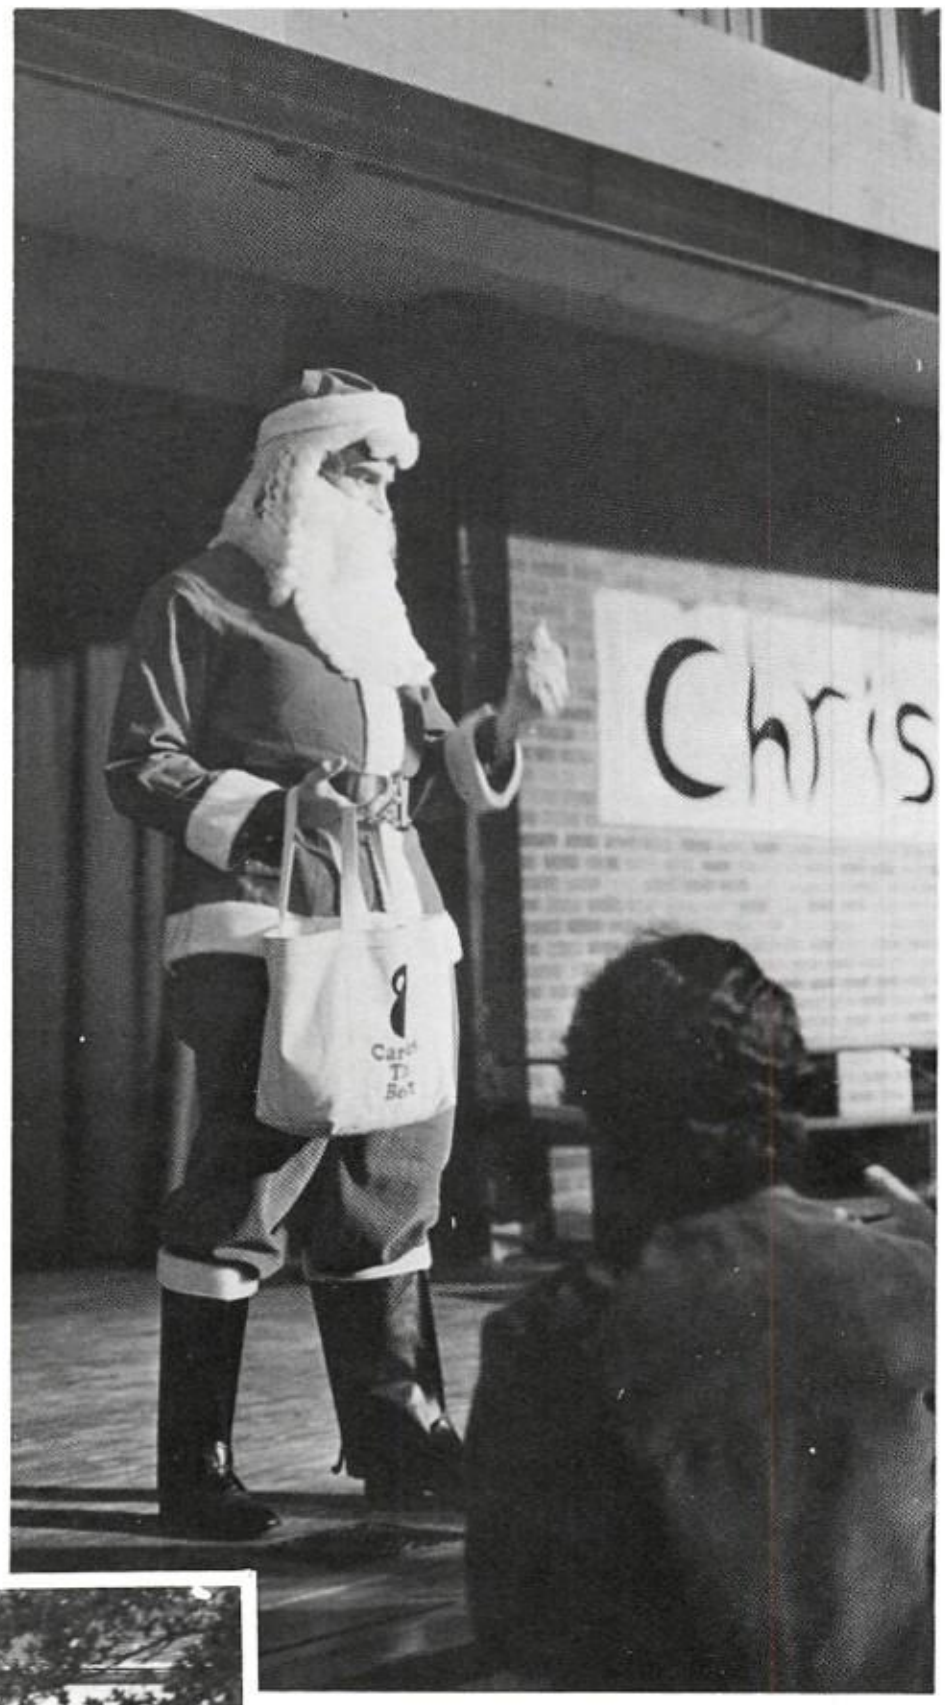
Introduction

What is school for? Boys come here to get ready for some useful part in life. Some come to succeed; others come to fail. I feel an intense desire for you to make the most of yourselves.

--Sawney Webb

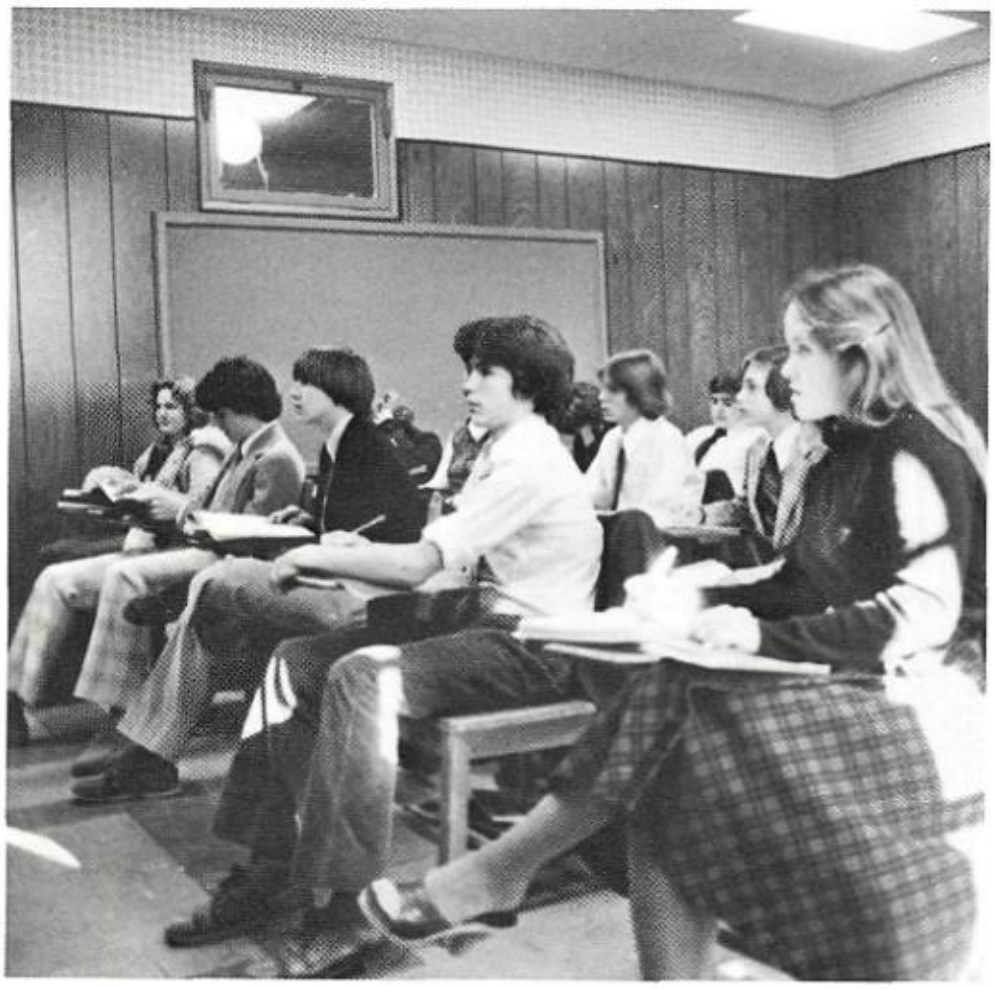


WHAT IS WEBB?

Webb Is: Friendships, Hard Work,
Independence And Self-Reliance,
A Home, Responsibility . . .

. . . Cooperation,
A Family,
Character-Building,
Discouragement And Frustrations,
Competition . . .

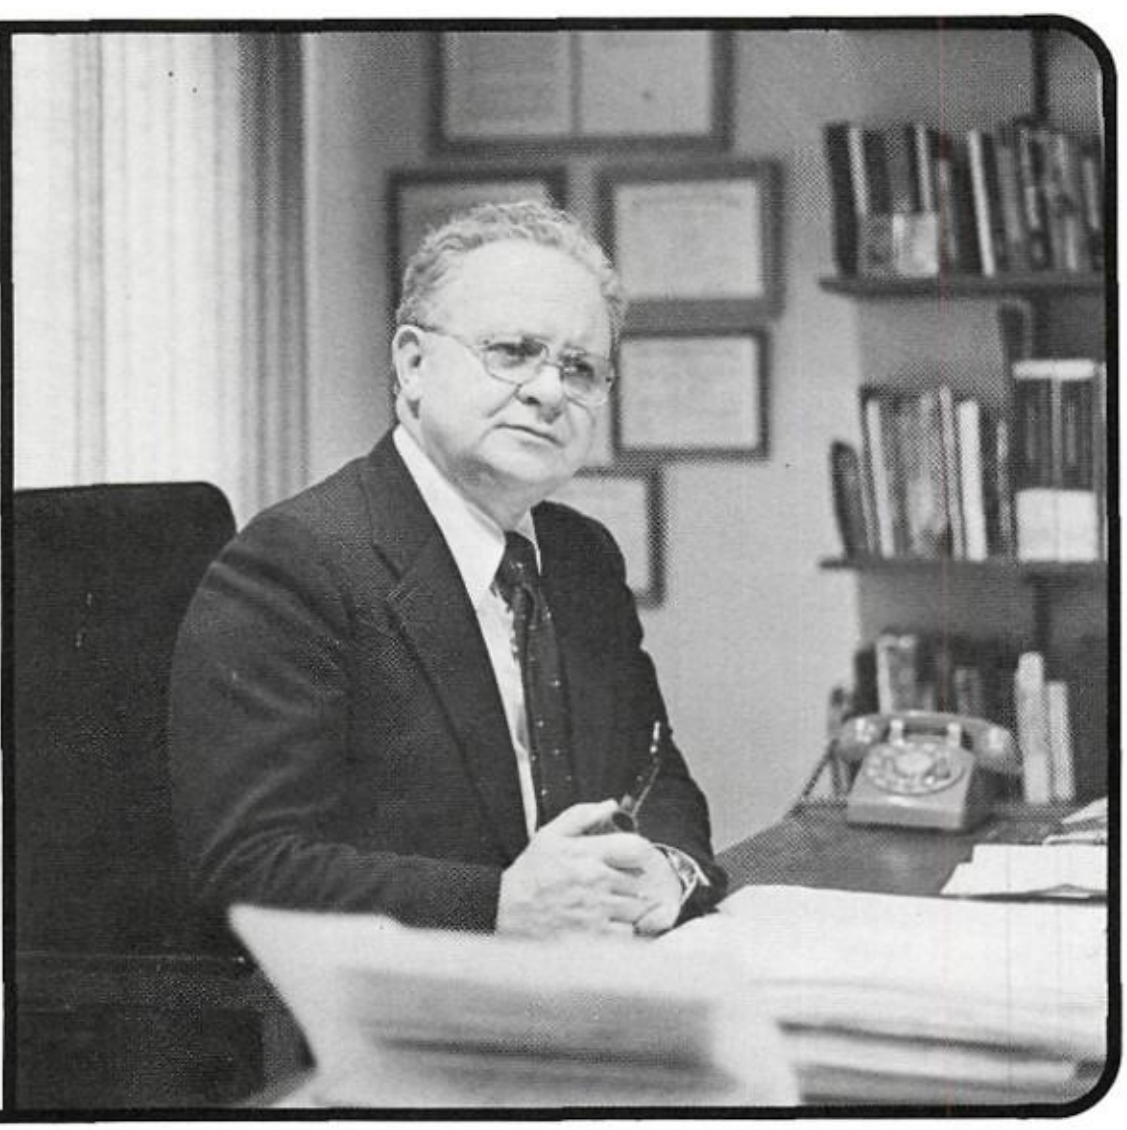
. . . growing & maturing
living with people.



In Appreciation

During the five years that Dr. Gary M. Jones has been President of Webb, a steady rise has occurred in the school's endowment. Dr. Jones has spent much time traveling and speaking to promote Webb School. In many ways this is a thankless task since the benefits of his fund-raising probably will not be felt for a few years. Since this is Dr. Jones' final year at Webb, the members of the SAWNEY staff would like to extend our warm appreciation to him for his time spent at Webb and for the valuable contributions that he has made to the school.

Thanks, D.J.!



I never tell a boy that this is an easy place . . .

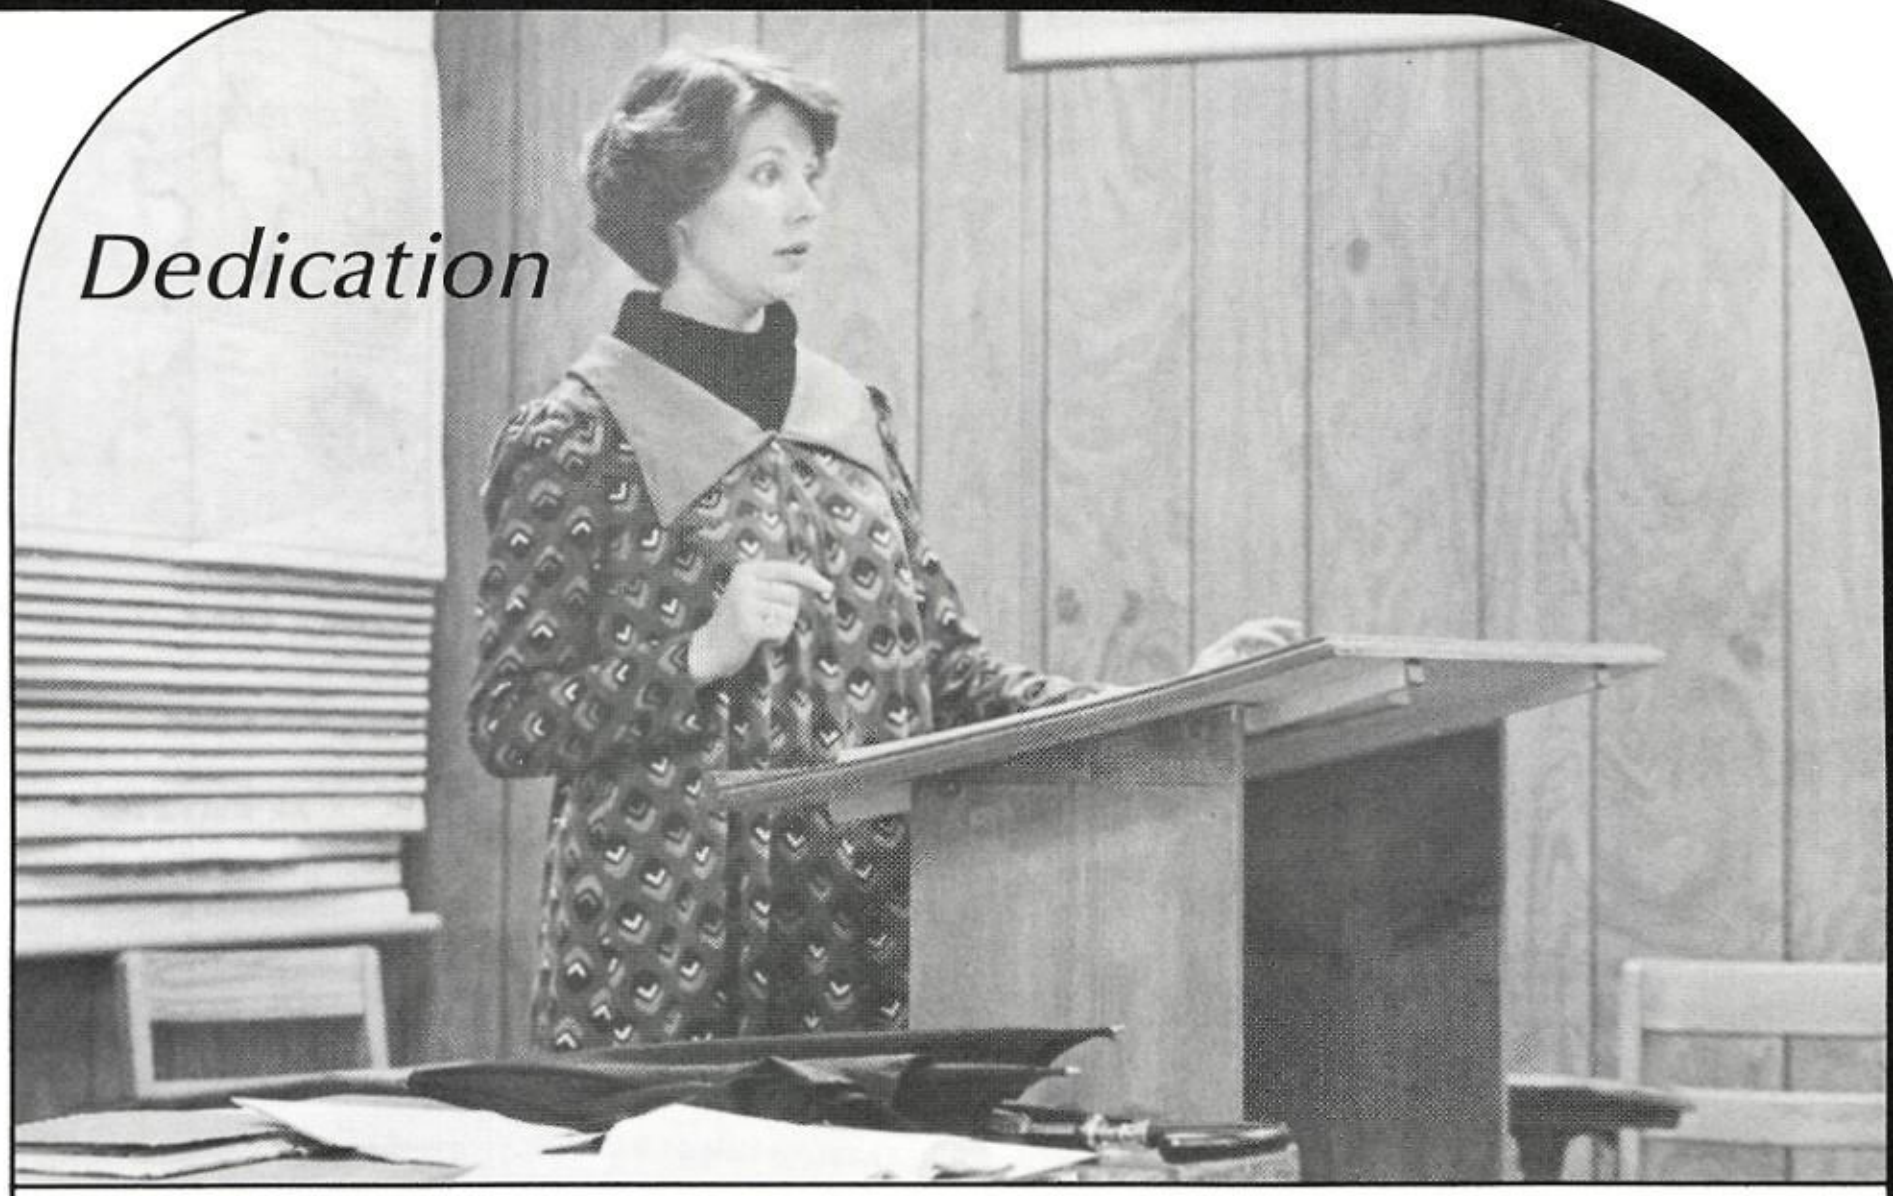
Dedication



Advising the yearbook is perhaps the most demanding of all faculty advisorships. This duty requires not only the coordination of the yearbook staff, but also many hours of proofreading and actual work. For the past three years, in addition to her responsibilities as librarian, Lynn Holliman has been both advisor of the Sawney and head of the Speech Department. During this time the quality of The Sawney has improved greatly and the speech team has been very successful in interscholastic tournaments. Because of the Sawney Staff's deep appreciation and gratitude to Mrs. Holliman and because of her hard work and devotion to her responsibilities, we the 1978 Sawney Staff proudly dedicate this yearbook to Lynn Holliman.

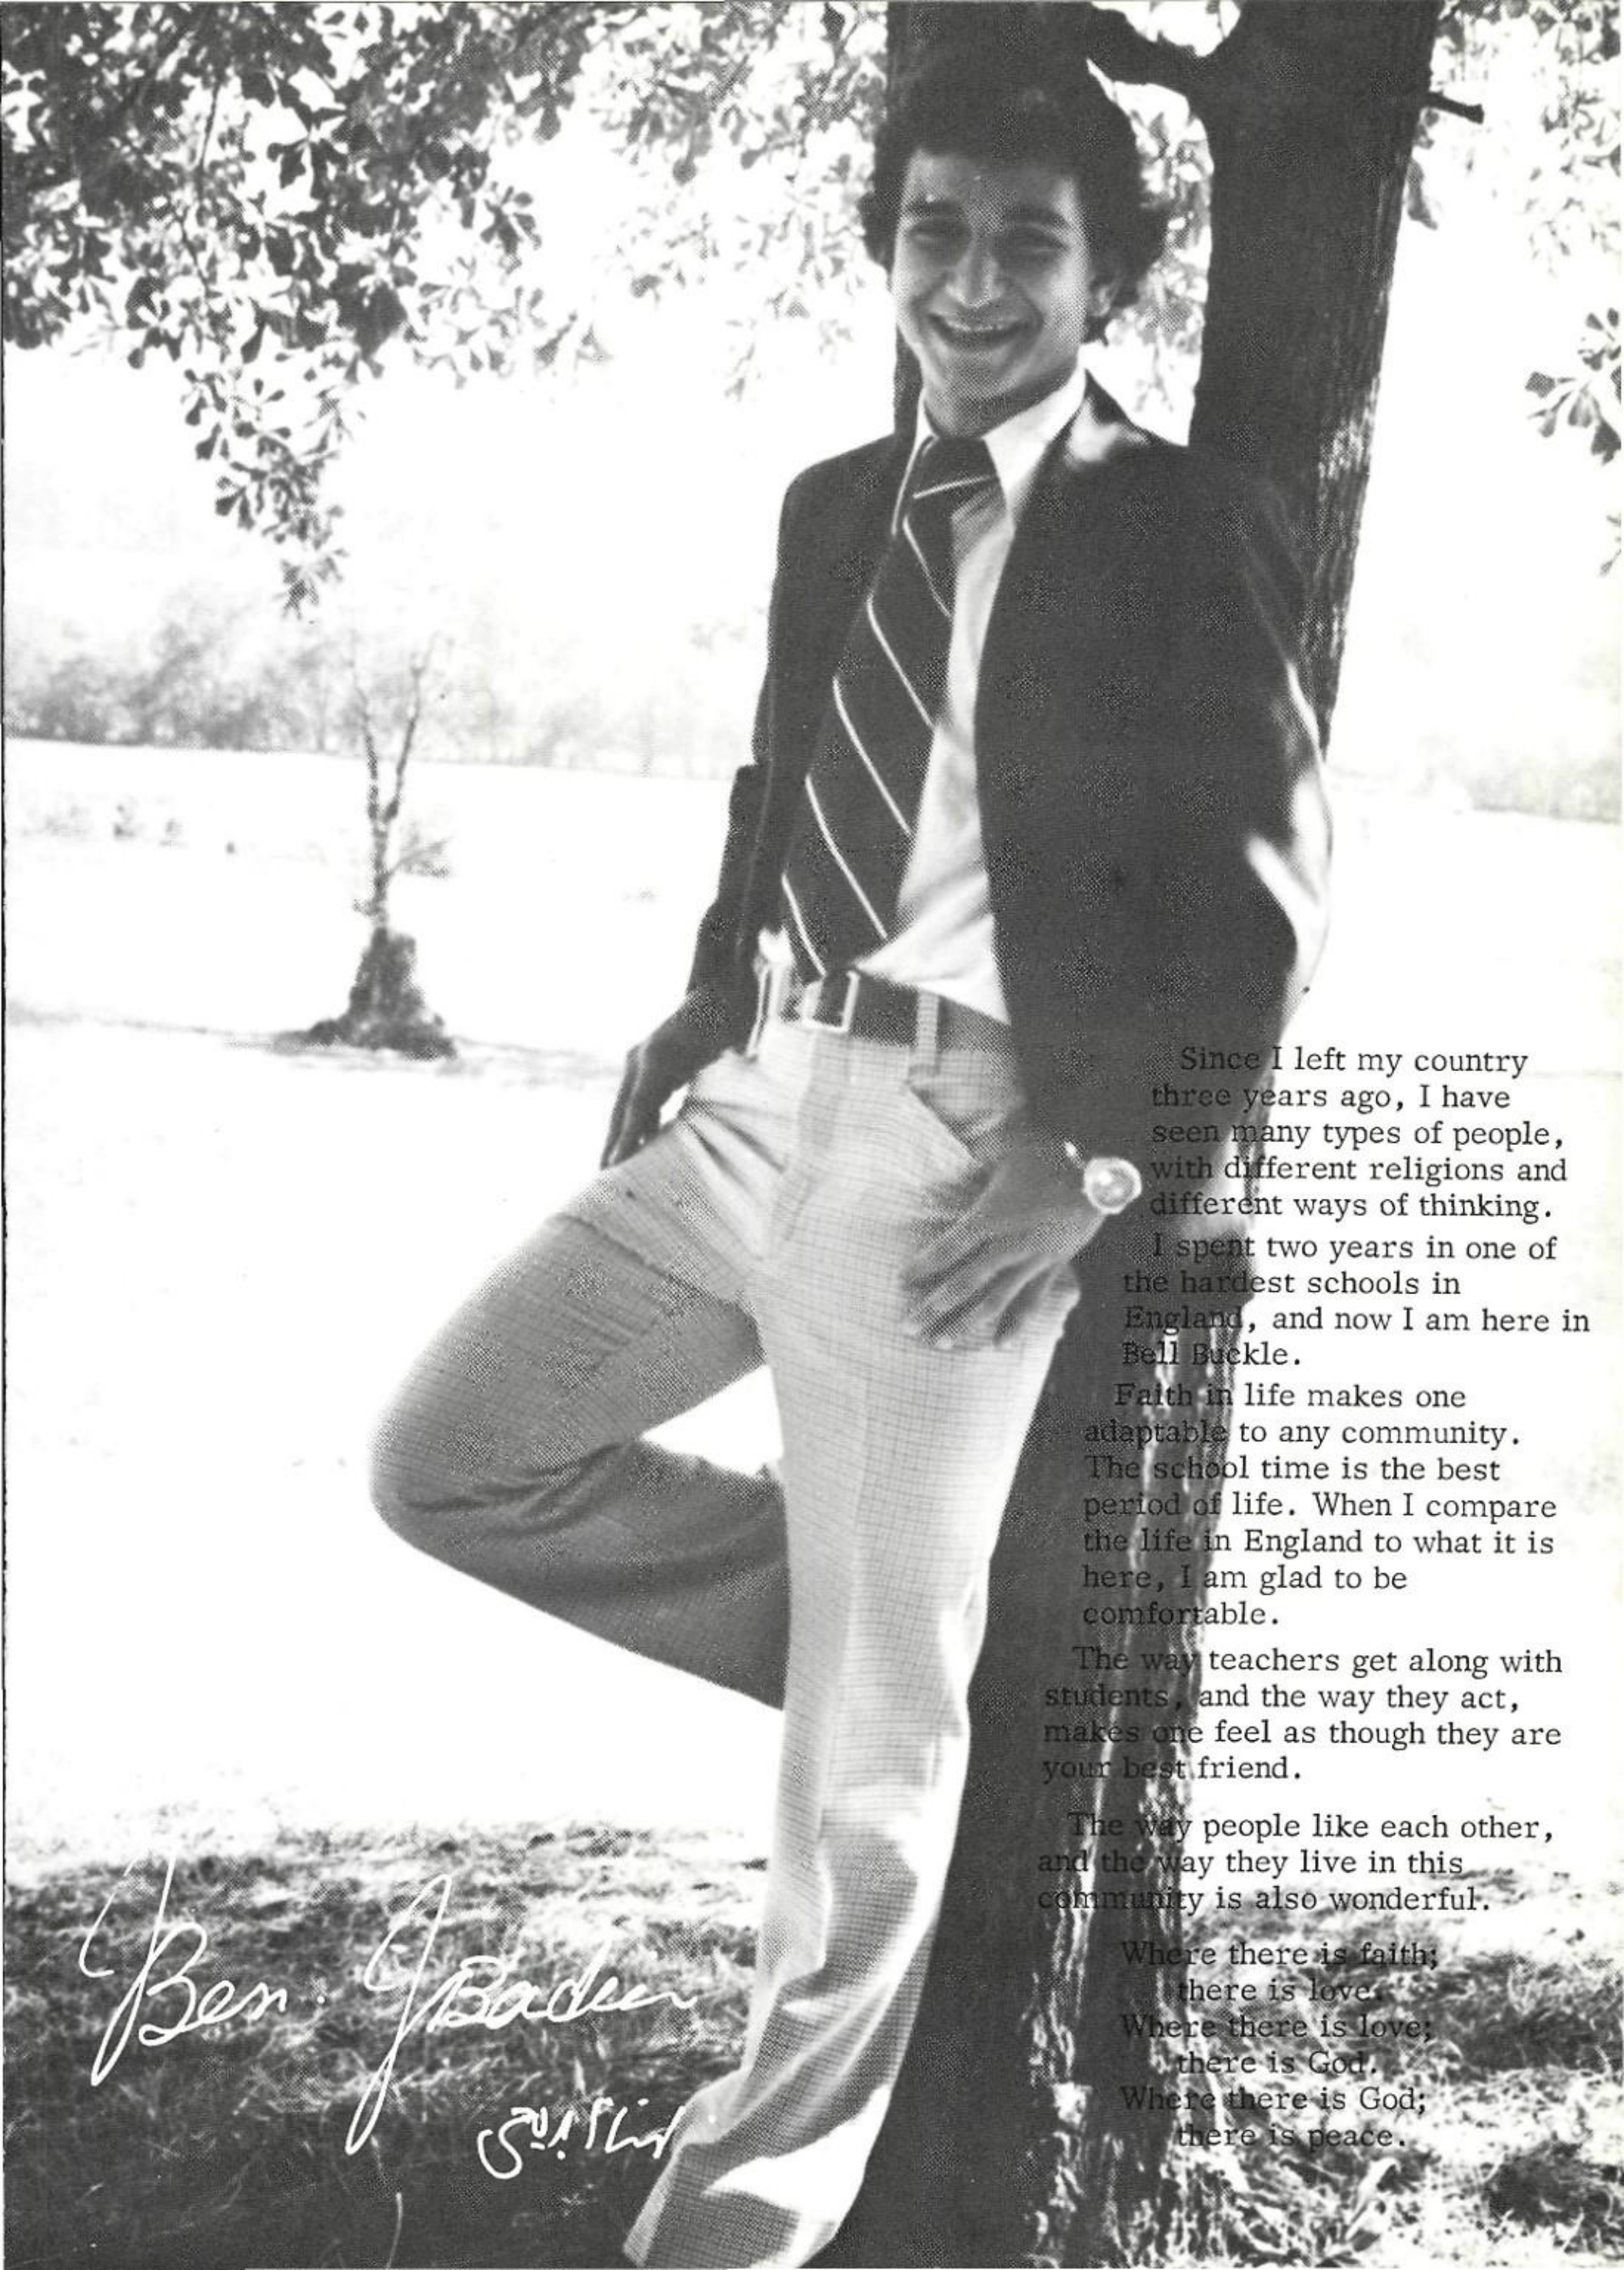
I regret only one thing about my experience at Webb--that it has been so short. My decision to come to Webb after three years at a public high school was not easy. I left many things behind, but what I have gained at Webb is much more than I left behind. My senior year at Webb is one that I will always remember.

Jill Archer



Since I left my country three years ago, I have seen many types of people, with different religions and different ways of thinking.

I spent two years in one of the hardest schools in England, and now I am here in Bell Buckle.

Faith in life makes one adaptable to any community. The school time is the best period of life. When I compare the life in England to what it is here, I am glad to be comfortable.

The way teachers get along with students, and the way they act, makes one feel as though they are your best friend.

The way people like each other, and the way they live in this community is also wonderful.

Where there is faith;
there is love.
Where there is love;
there is God.
Where there is God;
there is peace.

Ben Jbadeen

Tis better to be vile than vile

And the just pleasure lost, which is so deemed
Not by our feeling but by others'

Or on my frailties why are frailer spies
Which in ther wills count bad what
I think good?
No, I am that I am; and they that level
At my abuses reckon up their own:
I may be straght though they themselves be level;
By their rank thoughts my deeds
must not be shown,
Unless this general evil they maintain:
All men are bad and in their bad-

In many ways this is how I feel. I've learned everything that Webb can teach me. My life here has taught me what is right through both good and bad experiences. I have seen this school go through many changes just as I have changed. I can say that the changes in me have been for the better but I can only hope that the changes in Webb have helped.

I would like to thank the school for making me a perfect-not for giving me the honor but for forcing me to take the responsibilities.

"My little friend Grildrig, you have made a most admirable panegyric upon your country. You have clearly proved that ignorance, idleness, and vice are the proper ingredients for qualifying a legislator. That laws are best explained, interpreted, and applied by those whose interests and abilities lie in perverting, confounding, and eluding them. I observe among you some lines of an institution which in its original might have been tolerable; but these half erased, and the rest wholly blurred and blotted by corruptions. It doth not appear from all you have said how any one virtue is required towards the procurement of any one station among you; much less that men are ennobled on account of their virtue, that priests are advanced for their piety or learning, soldiers for their conduct or valor, judges for their integrity, senators for the love of their country or counselors for their wisdom. As for yourself who have spent the greatest part of your life in traveling, I am well disposed to hope you may hitherto have escaped many vices of your country. But by what I have gathered from your own relation, and the answers I have with much pains wringed and extorted from you, I cannot but conclude the bulk of your natives to be the most pernicious race of little odious vermin that nature ever suffered to crawl upon the surface of the earth."

--Jonathan Swift

Although I have been at Webb only one summer and this year, I feel I have a fairly good idea of what goes on here and how to cope with it. I believe that my stay here has been profitable, but weighing it against all the concessions and sacrifices I have had to make, I do not know whether it has been worth it.

I would like to give my special thanks to Mr. & Mrs. Whitaker, Mr. & Mrs. Holliman and Mrs. Norton for their special help during the summer session.

"It has always seemed strange to me," said Doc. "The things we admire in men, kindness and generosity, openness, honesty, understanding and feeling are concomitants of failure in our system. And those traits we detest, sharpenss, greed, acquisitiveness, meanness, egotism and self-interest are traits of success. And while men admire the quality of the first they love the product of the second."

CANNERY ROW

Freedom only for the supporters of the government, only for the members of one party- however numerous they may be- is no freedom at all. Freedom is always exclusively for the one who thinks differently. Not because of any fanatical concept of "justice" but because all that is instructive, wholesome and purifying in political freedom depends on this essential characteristic.

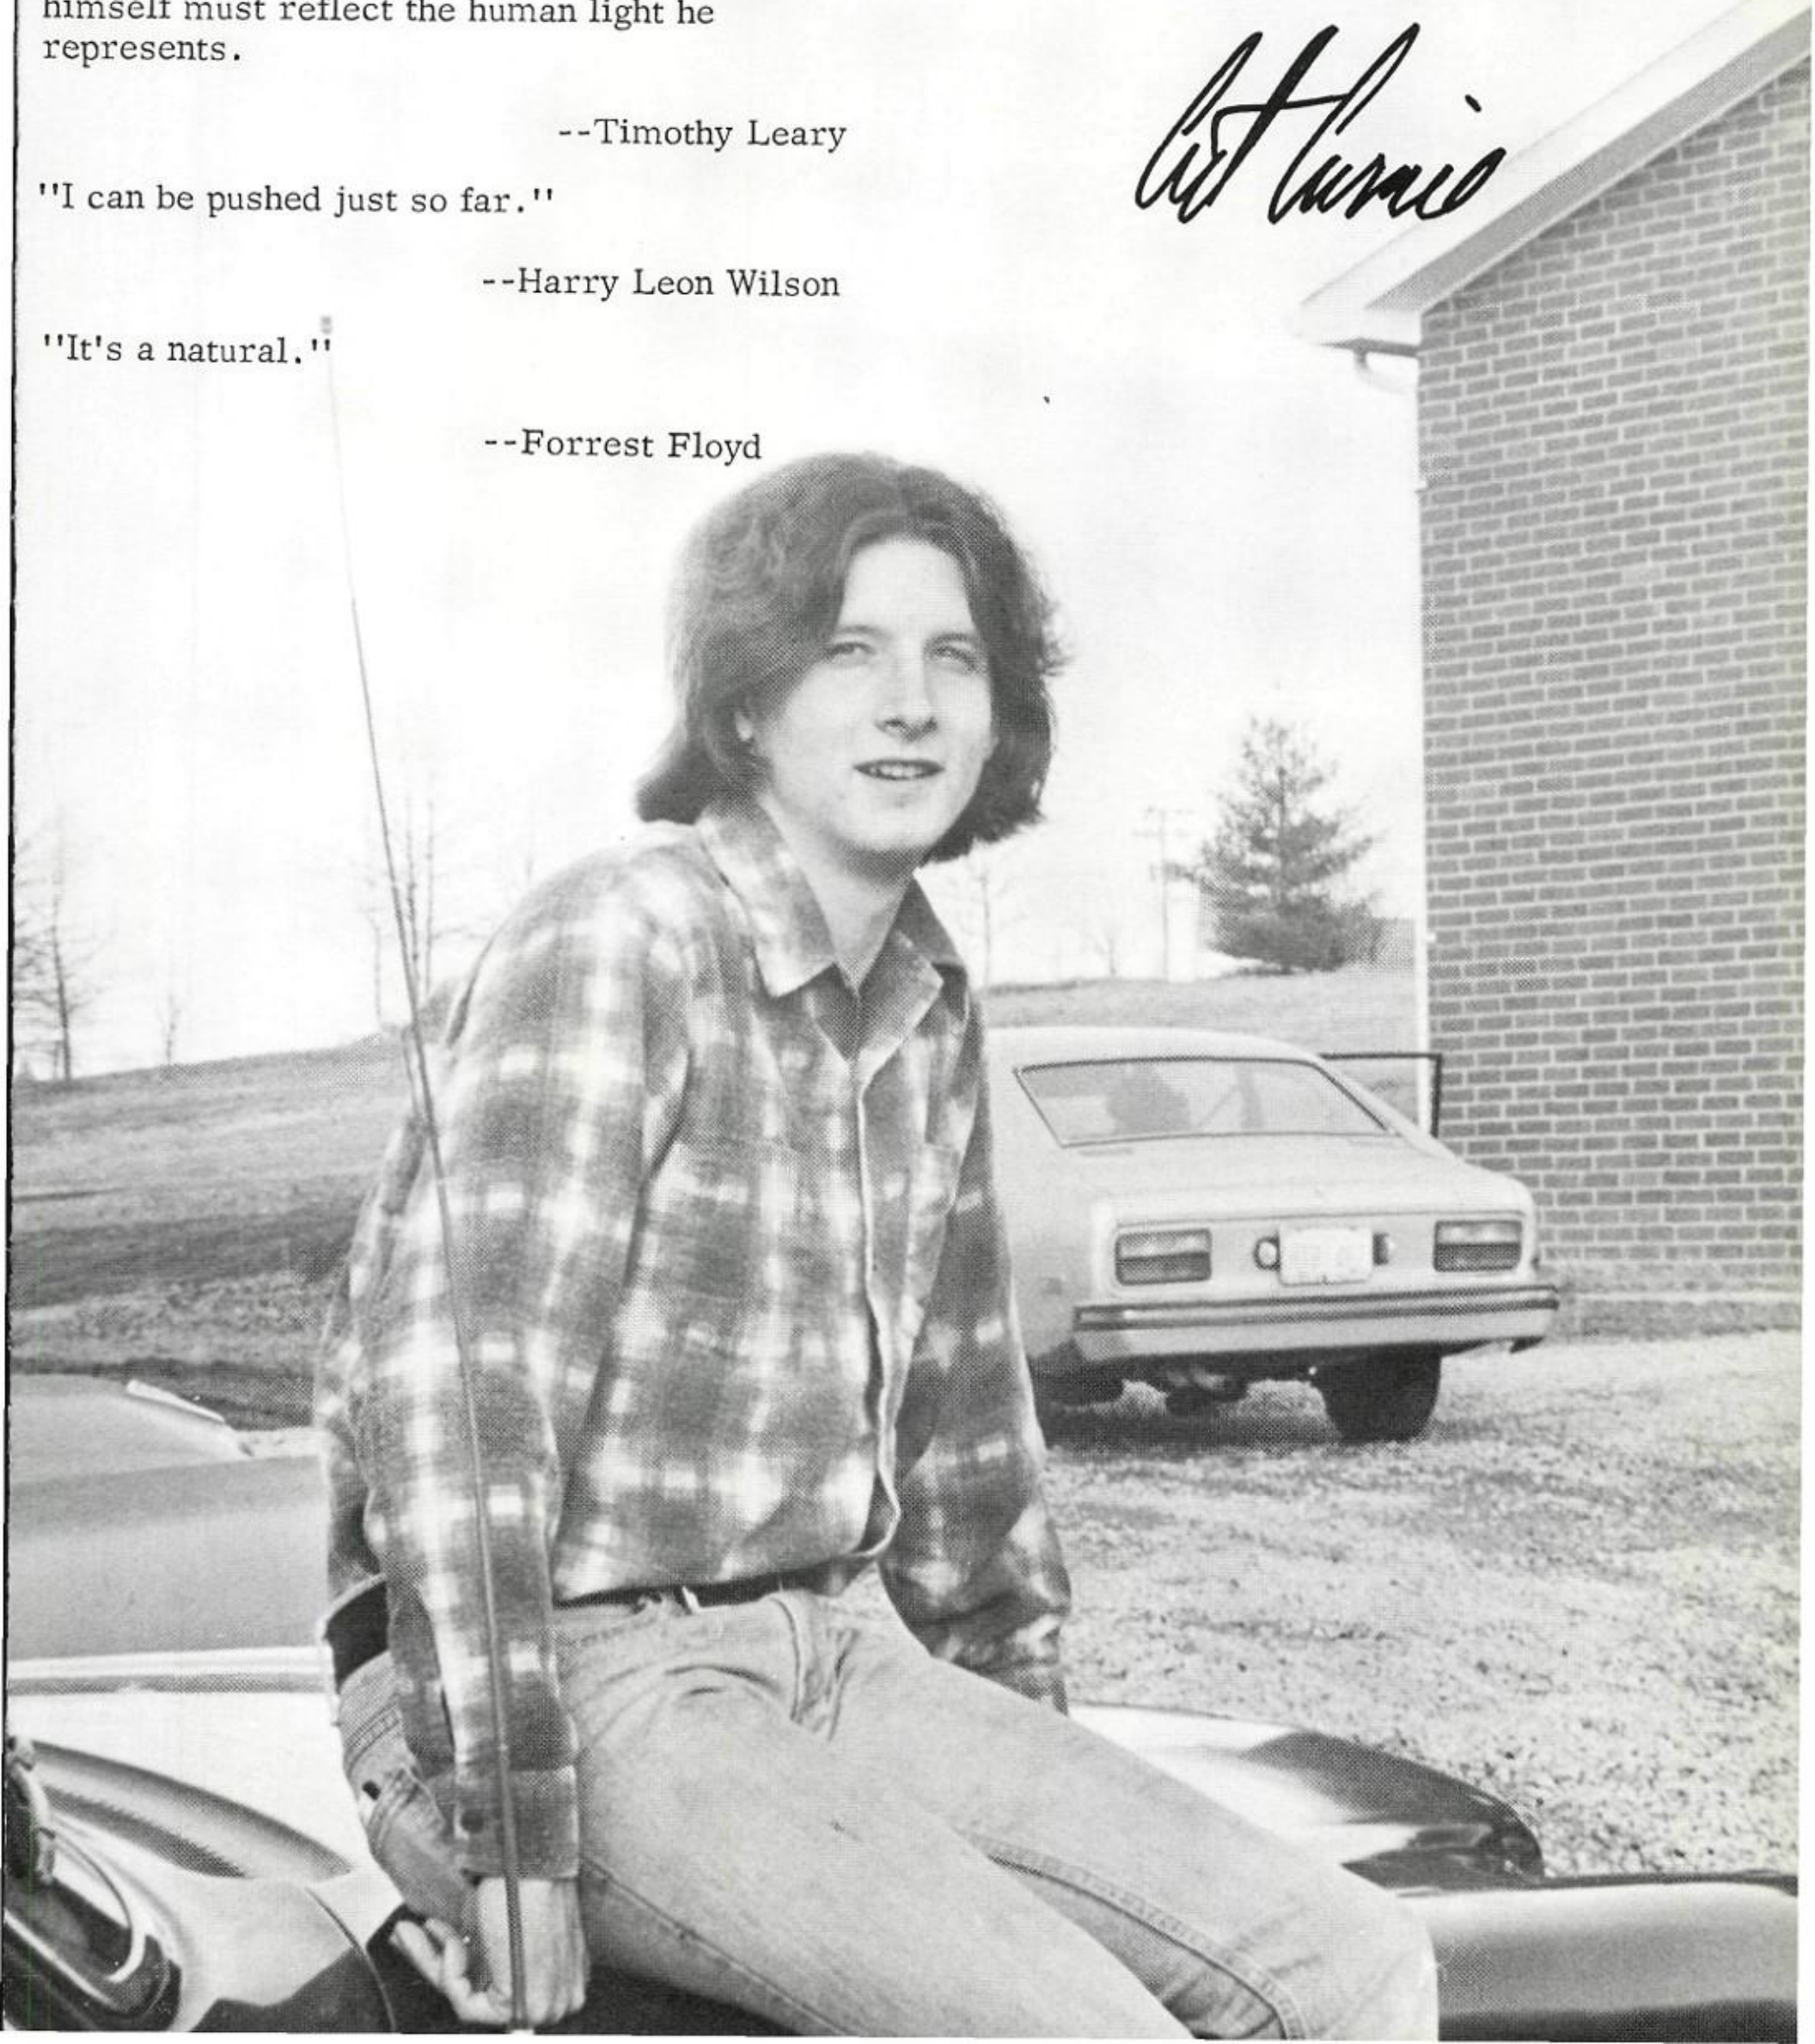
Webb . . . what is there to say? In my years here I have met people I will never forget. I do not say that I love Webb, because if you go here for a while, there is something that a person likes and dislikes about Webb.



Sometimes I lie awake at night and wonder
Where my life will lead me . . .

--Jackson Browne

Just the name "Webb" brings back memories. It is a place I have loved and hated. I have learned a great deal here, and am grateful. But still I am ready to go. I've met many people here and have grown really close to some. I thank those who have helped me and those I've loved.

It has been an experience! I may feel differently later, but now, I can't say I'm not glad to be going.

This my third and final year at Webb has been anything but uneventful. There have been many rough spots this past year and if I don't say anything else I must thank the two people who have helped me to face if not overcome all obstacles. Thanks Gay-Gay! And a Special thank-you to the indomitable Lana, though she often has her size eight foot in her size ten mouth, she has been a truly cherished friend (Lana no offense intended 'cause ya know I love ya!).

Although at times I have doubted the reasoning behind the regulations and restrictions at Webb, I will admit that I have profited from the Webb experience. I can also say that Webb has made it possible for me to face the world as one who is confident in her abilities as an individual.

Considering the five years I have spent here at Webb, it has been both a heaven and a Bunsen burner, but I don't think I will regret it. I owe a special thanks to these people - for I could never have made it had it not been for them: Mr. MacGregor, Coach Radford, Mrs. Fort, Mr. Heffner, and Coach Roy Johnson. I would also like to thank Freddy, John Earthman, Minos, Forrest, Crit and Randy C. Their friendships I will cherish forever.

It has been a long four years for me at Webb. I have learned here, not necessarily academics but I have learned about life. I cannot completely express my experiences at Webb because of the amount of space.

I will finish by saying that I have had a lot of good times and a lot of bad times and have met a lot of great people and will never forget them.

James D. Eldredge, Jr.

I am one of those lucky people who has the opportunity to spend a year in the United States. I am here not as a tourist or spectator but rather as an involved member. I not only get to see how life in America is, but I am able to live it myself. I am accepted as a son in a very nice family, I enjoy the community life and I go to school. In this way I learn a great deal about a great country as well as myself. This year has helped me very much to become a better person.

I particularly felt honored to attend The Webb School. I found many new friends among the students, and I found friendly, helpful, and understanding teachers who made my stay a pleasant one.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has contributed to making my year possible and pleasant: all my friends, AFS, my host family and The Webb School.

My past couple of years at Webb School have been most challenging. I have met a whole new character of people while attending school here. My getting used to the people and the environment has changed my views and outlooks toward many things. Webb has had a tremendous effect on my life. To all my friends- I will love and cherish your friendships dearly. I would like to say a special thanks to Mrs. Sole for allowing me to live in her dormitory and helping me through it with love. Also special thanks to Mother and Daddy for being so loving and understanding through it all.

This year I was given a great opportunity by American Field Service to see American life and attend Webb School. It is an experience of finding a new home, a new school and friends in a new country. All this has so much to teach.

I have found people here always friendly and open-hearted to share their homes.

The kindness and caring of my AFS family and all the dear people of Webb School have been my best help and the countless memories of this wonderful year will always be with me.

Thank you- Kiitos!

Some people have said that Webb is the people and not the school itself. I strongly believe this. The people have made my stay at Webb not only bearable, but have provided me with friendships which will stay with me forever. "Though far away, and miles apart, we will not touch with hands but yet with the heart."

I would like to thank all, but especially Jim, Russ, and of course Crit (for putting up with me for the last two years). The times as well as the people will not be forgotten. For instance: The "XYZ" Affair and other assorted "X+" Affairs, late night (or early morning swims), the long nights studying and the late cigarettes (last year, or course), and so many other "good" times. These are the days although we don't realize it.

I would like to dedicate this page to my father, my grandmother, my sisters, and my friends . . . but especially to MOM, without whom Webb would never have been possible for me.

-In Remembrance-

To the smokinghole, that wretched hole I spent half my Webb life in. To the smokinghole crowd, the most closely knit in the entire school.

H.K.

Afoot and light-hearted I take to the open road
Healthy, free, the world before,
The long brown path before me leading wherever I choose.

Henceforth I ask not good fortune, I myself am good fortune,
Henceforth I whimper no more, need nothing,
Done with indoor complaints, libraries, querulous criticisms,
Strong and content I travel the open road.

The earth, that is sufficient,
I do not want the constellations any nearer,
I know they are very well where they are
I know they suffice for those who belong to them.

(Still here I carry my old delicious burdens,
I carry them, men and women, I carry them with me wherever I go,
I swear it is impossible for me to get rid of them,
I am fill'd with them; and I will fill them in return.)

--Walt Whitman

. . . I was a victim of contrary stresses which produced a state of immobility. I gave myself up to indolence. Since it was impossible for me to face both ways, I had elected to face nothing. The discovery of new values in life is a very chaotic experience; there is a tremendous amount of jostling and confusion and a momentary feeling of darkness. I let my spirit float supine over that chaos.

--Joseph Conrad

What has brought them to the temple . . . no single answer will cover . . . escape from everyday life, with its painful crudity and hopeless dreariness, from the fetters of one's own shifting desires. A finely tempered nature longs to escape from his noisy cramped surroundings into the silence of the high mountains where the eye ranges freely through the still pure air and fondly traces out the restful contours apparently built for eternity.

--Albert Einstein

Senior pages are often used for thanking friends, condemning wrongs and telling funny stories. Since I will thank people personally, wrongs are rarely corrected by print and I have told my funny stories enough, there is no need to send paragraphs reminiscing about these things. The future fills my thoughts. Webb has benefited me in many ways, but I am ready to leave for the future looks bright.

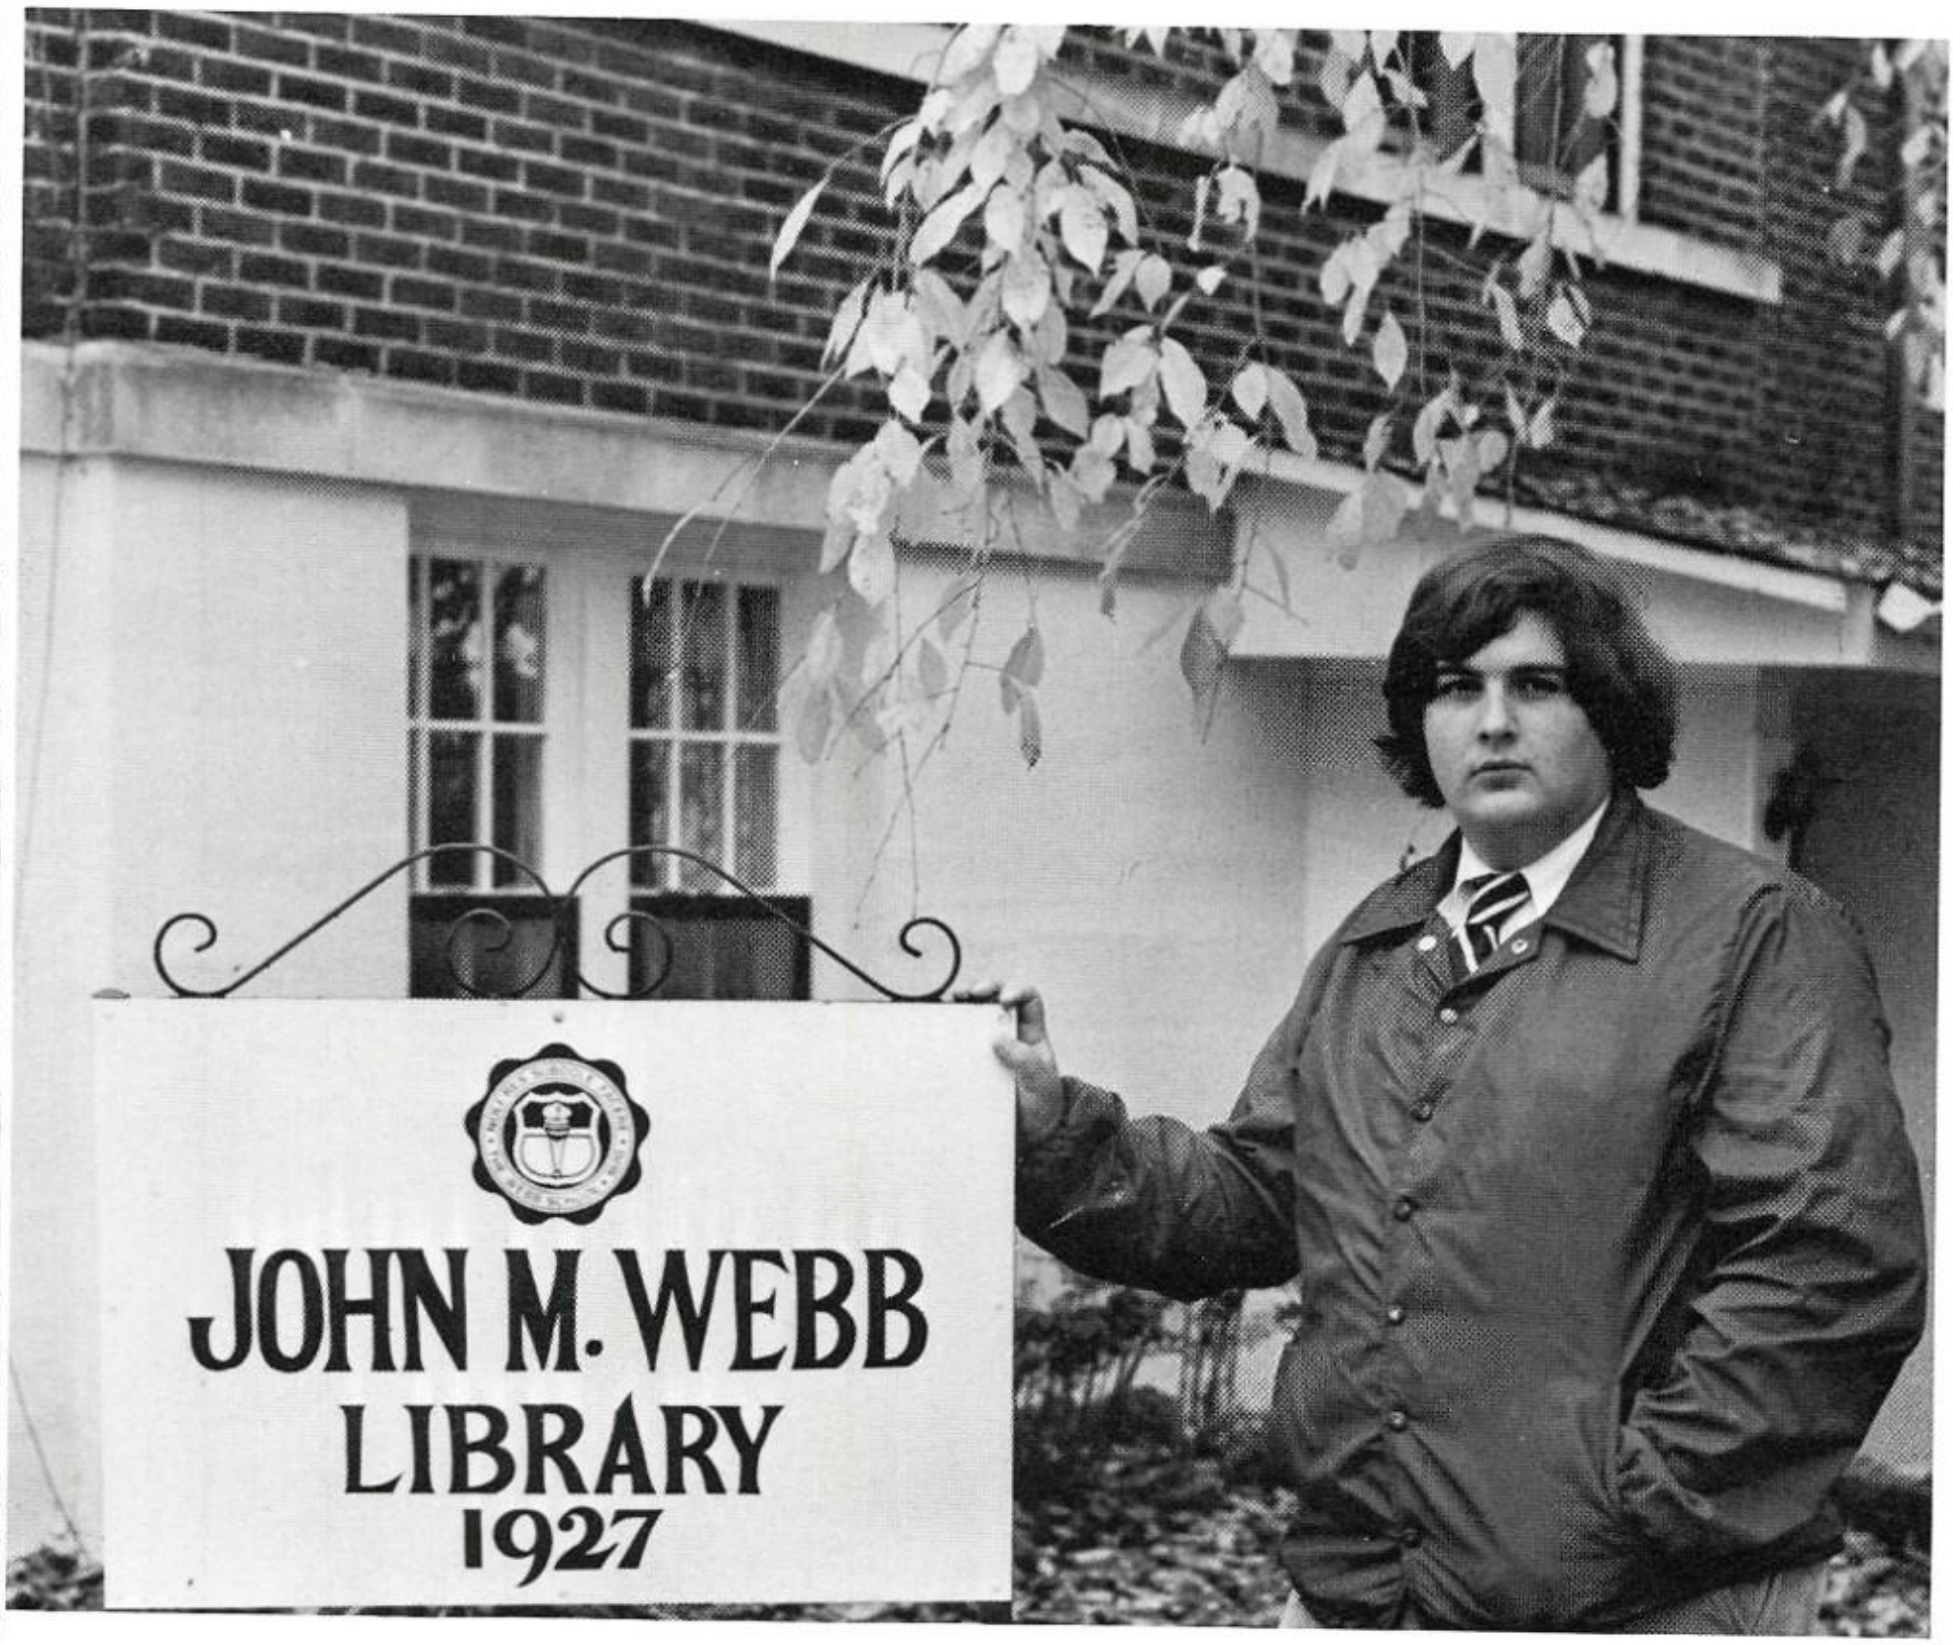
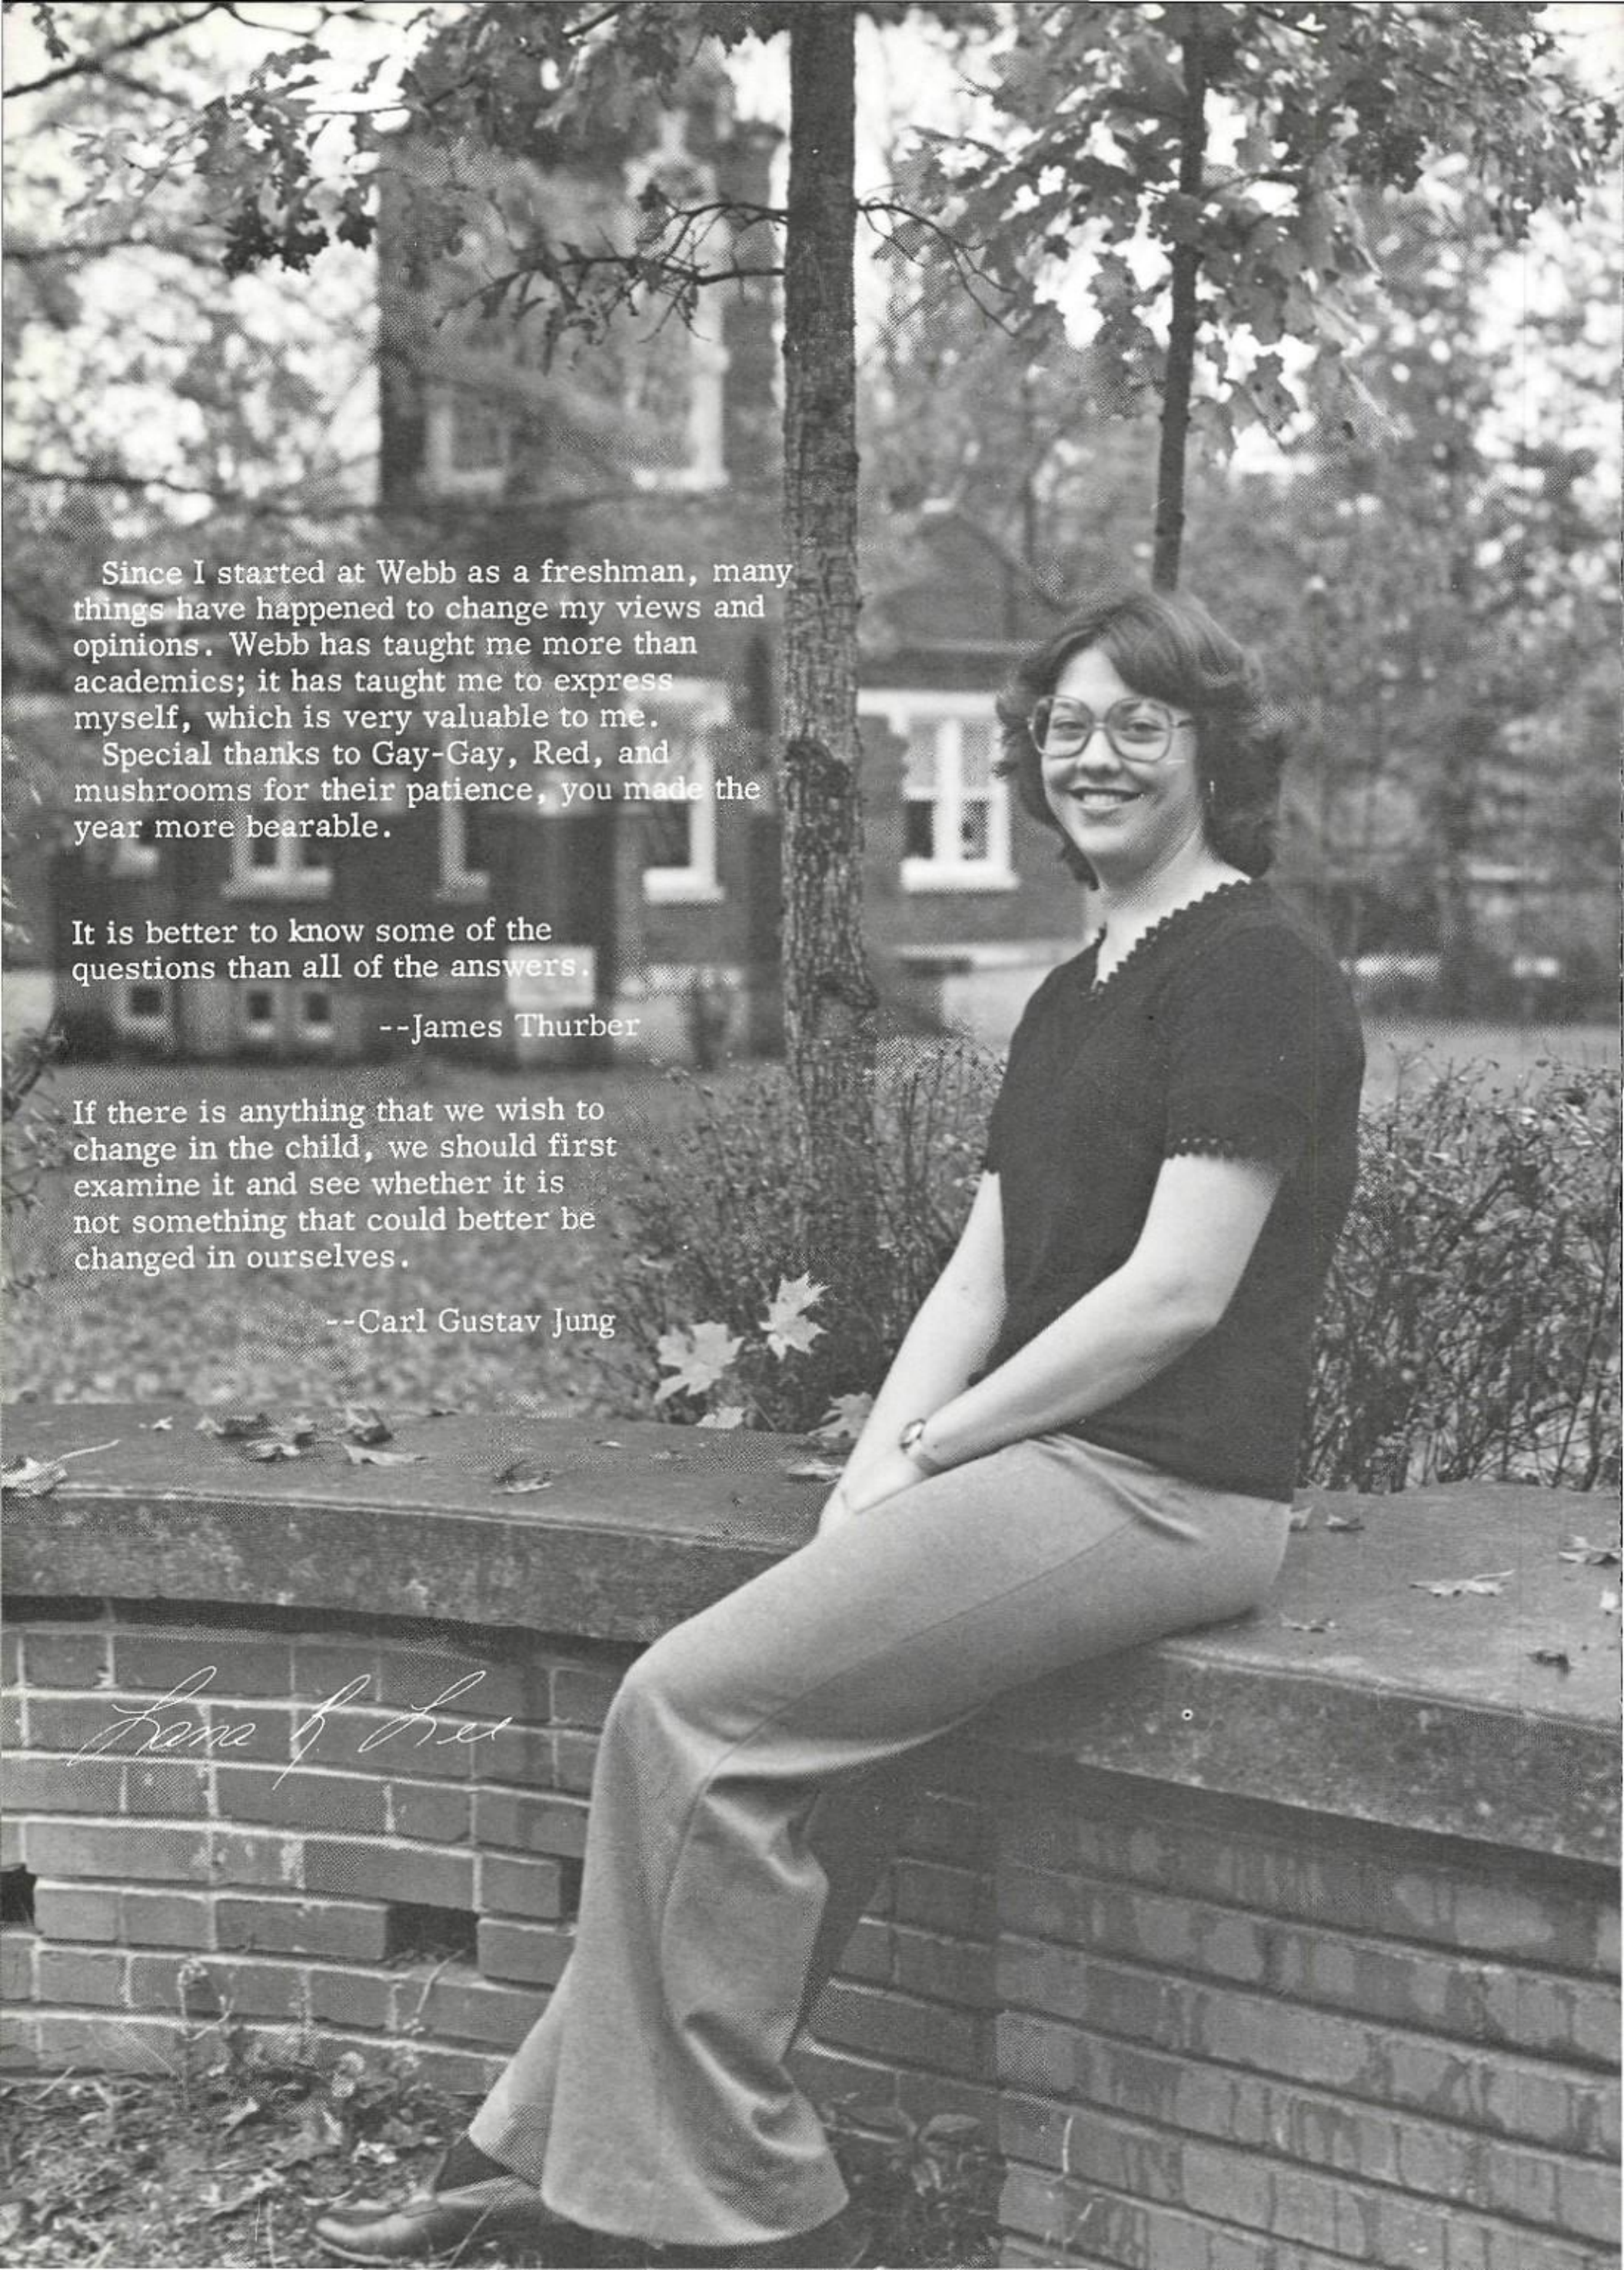
--Aesop



In the four years that I have been at Webb, I have learned a great deal. This experience has taught me to appreciate the finer things of life. I have met many new friends and different people from all walks of life. My junior year I was privileged to have an AFS student as my roommate. That was one of the best things that ever happened to me. Webb has certainly helped me to see life from a different perspective. Webb is a growing place, and I hope it stays that way.



Since I started at Webb as a freshman, many things have happened to change my views and opinions. Webb has taught me more than academics; it has taught me to express myself, which is very valuable to me.

Special thanks to Gay-Gay, Red, and mushrooms for their patience, you made the year more bearable.

I would like to express my gratitude to the Hollimans, to my sister, and to my mother and father for their love and care through these challenging but most wonderful years at Webb.

James R. Mathes

I gotta admit I'm a little bit confused
Sometimes it seems that I'm just being used
Gotta stay awake, gotta try and shake off this

For me Webb has been more than just a school. It has been a little society, a place to meet friends, to grow up and to develop your own distinct attitudes and manners. I wish there were more places like Webb on this earth. Besides teaching me academically, Webb has taught me to better understand other people and their ways of thinking. Although it sometimes was very hard to keep up with the native Americans, it was a lot of fun to be together with them a whole year. I am going to miss you all, when the time comes for me to go back to Norway.

I have not been at Webb School for a very long time, but I think that Webb is a good school. I thought that I would be very homesick here, but everyone has been so kind that my homesickness has lessened. I have learned many things at Webb and I like every part of the school. I have had a good time with my Iranian and American friends. I am happy that I am here and will keep all of my memories of The Webb School.

Shiva Sabbagh

There's a time and a place for everything; Webb happened to be the place where I'd spend my high school years. I'm not saying that I regret these past four years here because I don't. Every year becomes a new experience full of new challenges and new friends. Despite the many trials and tribulations I've had to face, when I think about it, they weren't so bad. Why? Because there was always someone I could talk to or complain to. Never was there a time when there wasn't someone around to talk with. That's what's so unique about this school: the people.

I often wonder what I would have been like if I hadn't been influenced by the Webb people. Certainly not what I am today!

In retrospect, I'd like to mention some friends and memories which I will never forget.

Over the years that I have been at Webb, many things have happened. Not all was good, but the good was there, and that's what I'll remember. And a women who held the babe against her bosom said, Speak to us of Children.
And he said:
Your children are not your children
They are the sons and daughters of life's longing for itself.
They come through you but not from you,
And though they are with you yet they belong not to you.
You may give them your love but not your thoughts,
For they have their own thoughts.
You may house their bodies but not their souls,
For their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow, which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams.
You may strive to be like them, but seek not to make them like you.
For life goes not backward nor tarries with yesterday.

The Webb School is very different from my last school. This is the first year that I have gone to an American school. I have learned a lot of things from Webb, but it is difficult to be away from my country and parents. I will never forget the teachers here, and I will remember always the girls' hockey team. I enjoyed it so very much. Good luck to my friends and the school.

Let me say this of Webb School. It is a place where boys become men and children, adults. If you think Webb is hard, think again. It is difficult only in its testing of your abilities and strengthening of your life. The more your abilities are tested, the stronger person you will be. If you do not think Webb is hard, then it doesn't provide a test for you, and you do not belong here. However, I do not think I have met a person at Webb who could not mature.

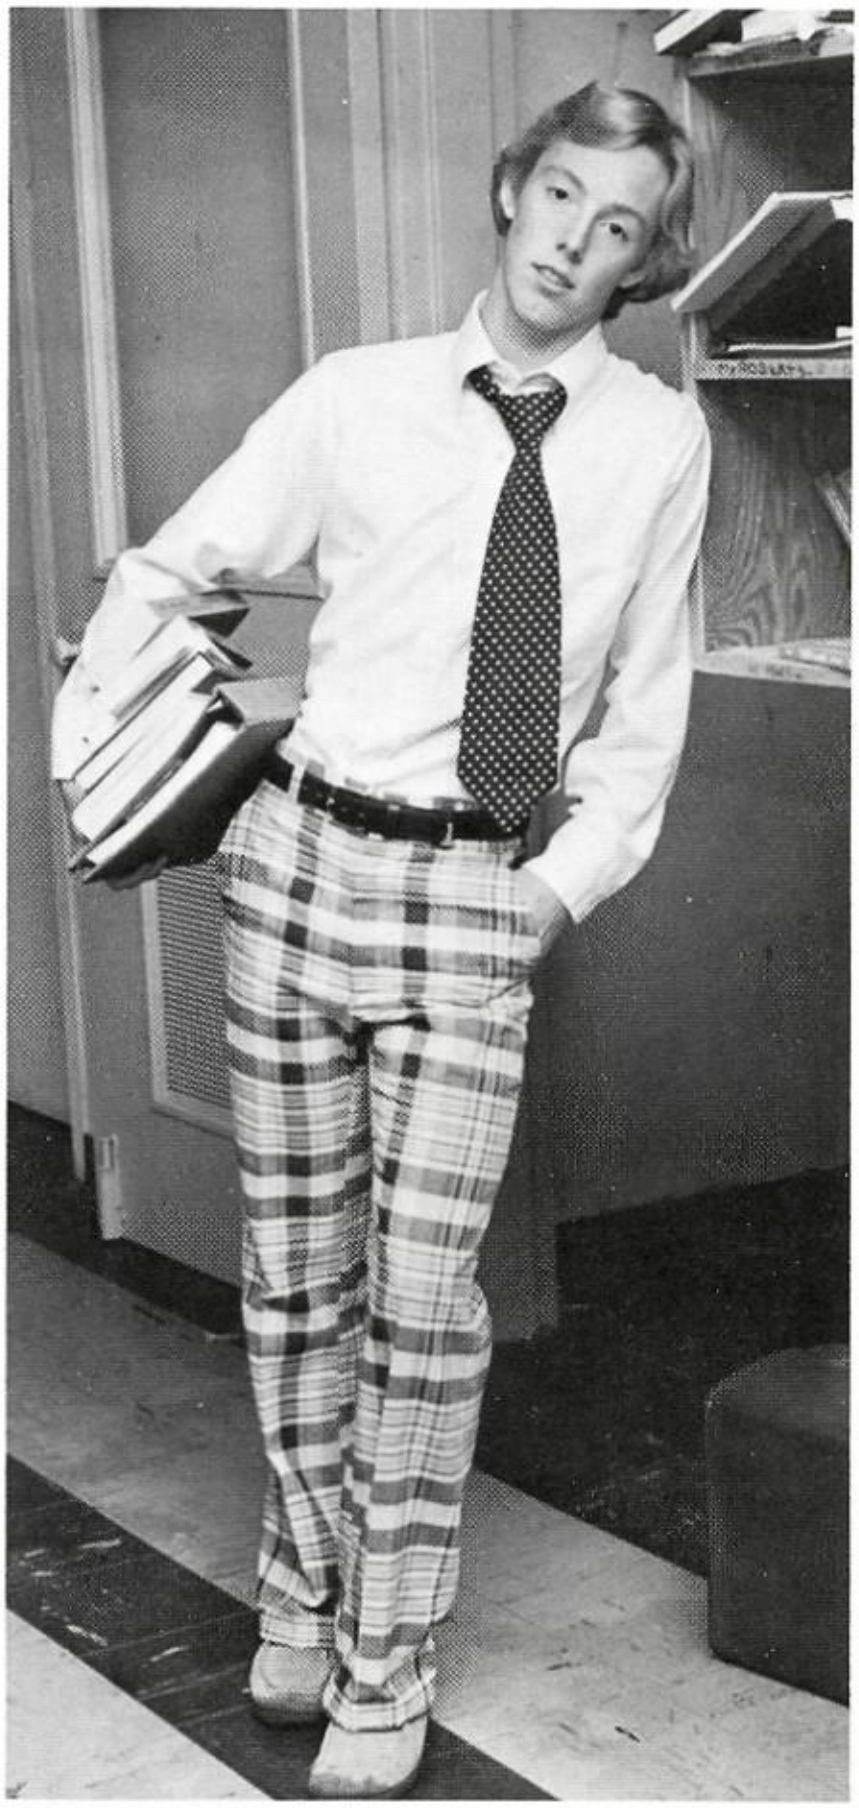
When I came to Webb four years ago, I came with the intent of "sticking it out" whether I liked it or not. I hadn't wanted to go to Webb, but to McCallie. I didn't want to follow a family tradition. I wanted to go to a school where I could be the one to establish myself. But I chose to go to Webb anyway for it would be a challenge.



"You have not converted a man because you have silenced him."
--John Morley

Lee Woosley

"You're the bait and you're the hook -- someone's bound to take a look."
--Aerosmith

When I arrived I found that I had been placed immediately in the same category as "some other members" of my family. People's impressions of me were determined as soon as they heard my name. But I was myself and no one else. It became hard for me to fight these preconceived ideas -- and I contemplated leaving. But I couldn't and wouldn't run because I knew that this must be part of growing up and part of life.

I had to stand up for myself and change their ideas, which I finally did, I think. I became someone that I could be proud of. Through this achievement I gained self-knowledge because I was forced to come to terms with myself. Having to do this and being successful brought about a sense of confidence, which is necessary to further success and happiness for anyone.

Webb became my home, and for the past four years it has been the very nucleus of my life. Webb has taught me, disciplined me, entertained me, and loved me. But most of all, through its students, faculty, and staff, Webb has prepared me for life. I feel I am prepared to face the expected and unexpected pressures and events one will inevitably confront in life. I have seen hypocrisy, cynicism, greed, struggle for power, loss of power, conceit, happiness, depression, sadness, success, failure, hatred, and love.

Finally, Webb has taught me to believe in myself and to be confident and strong enough to stand up for what I believe in. Only Webb could have given me all this in such a short time. Webb is an adventure which "grows on you" and can only be totally understood through becoming a part of its family.

I will never forget the people and happenings at Webb which have molded my personality and character and I thank each one of them for all they have done! Mr. Lagler (Herr Dickmann), the soccer teams, Mr. Shachmut (1-11), Mr. Heffner, Kendall "TIPS" Hayes, Tom Green, Don, Freddie, Buck, Earthworm, Link, Karen, Amy, Liz, Katharine G., and the seniors as a whole.

Thanks, Webb.

When you do a thing because you have determined that it ought to be done, never avoid being seen doing it, even if the opinion of the multitude is going to condemn you. For if your action is wrong, then avoid doing it altogether, but if it is right, why do you fear those who will rebuke you wrongly?

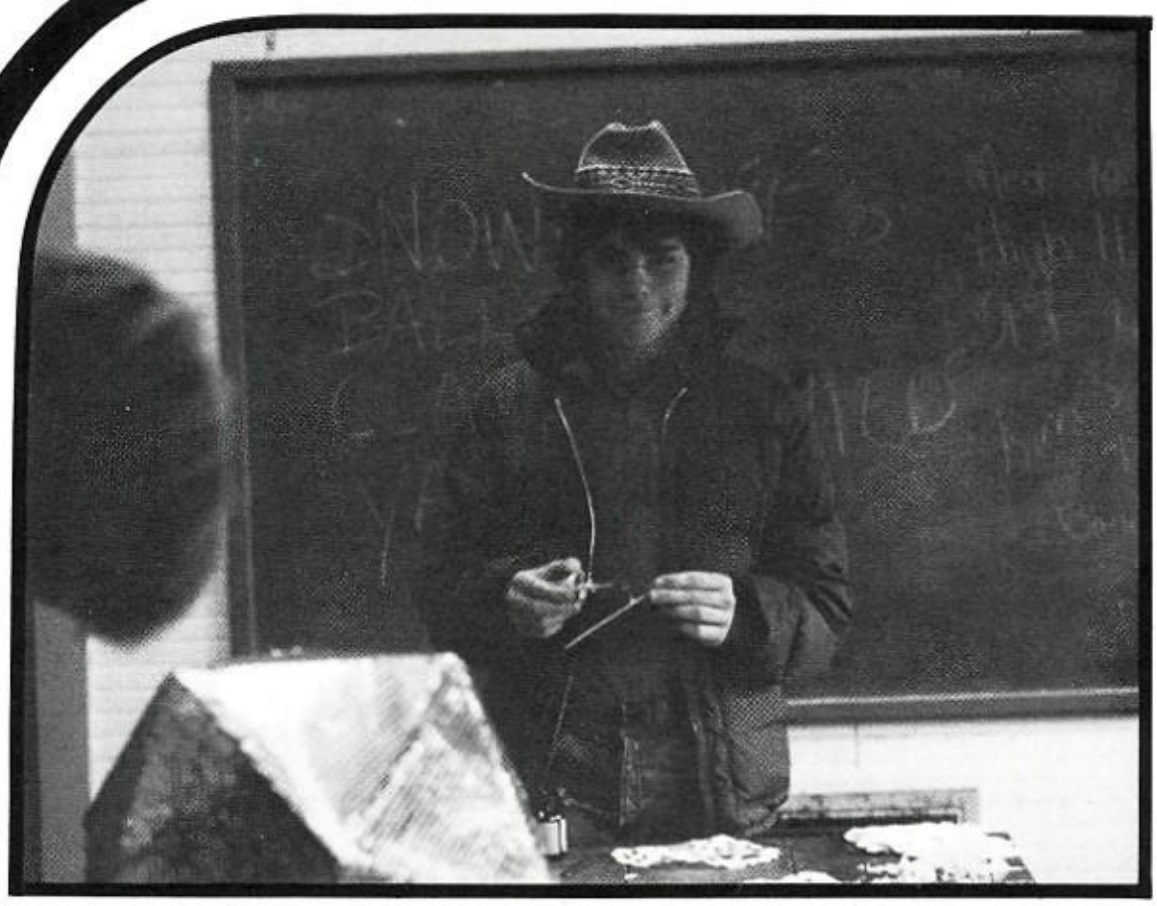
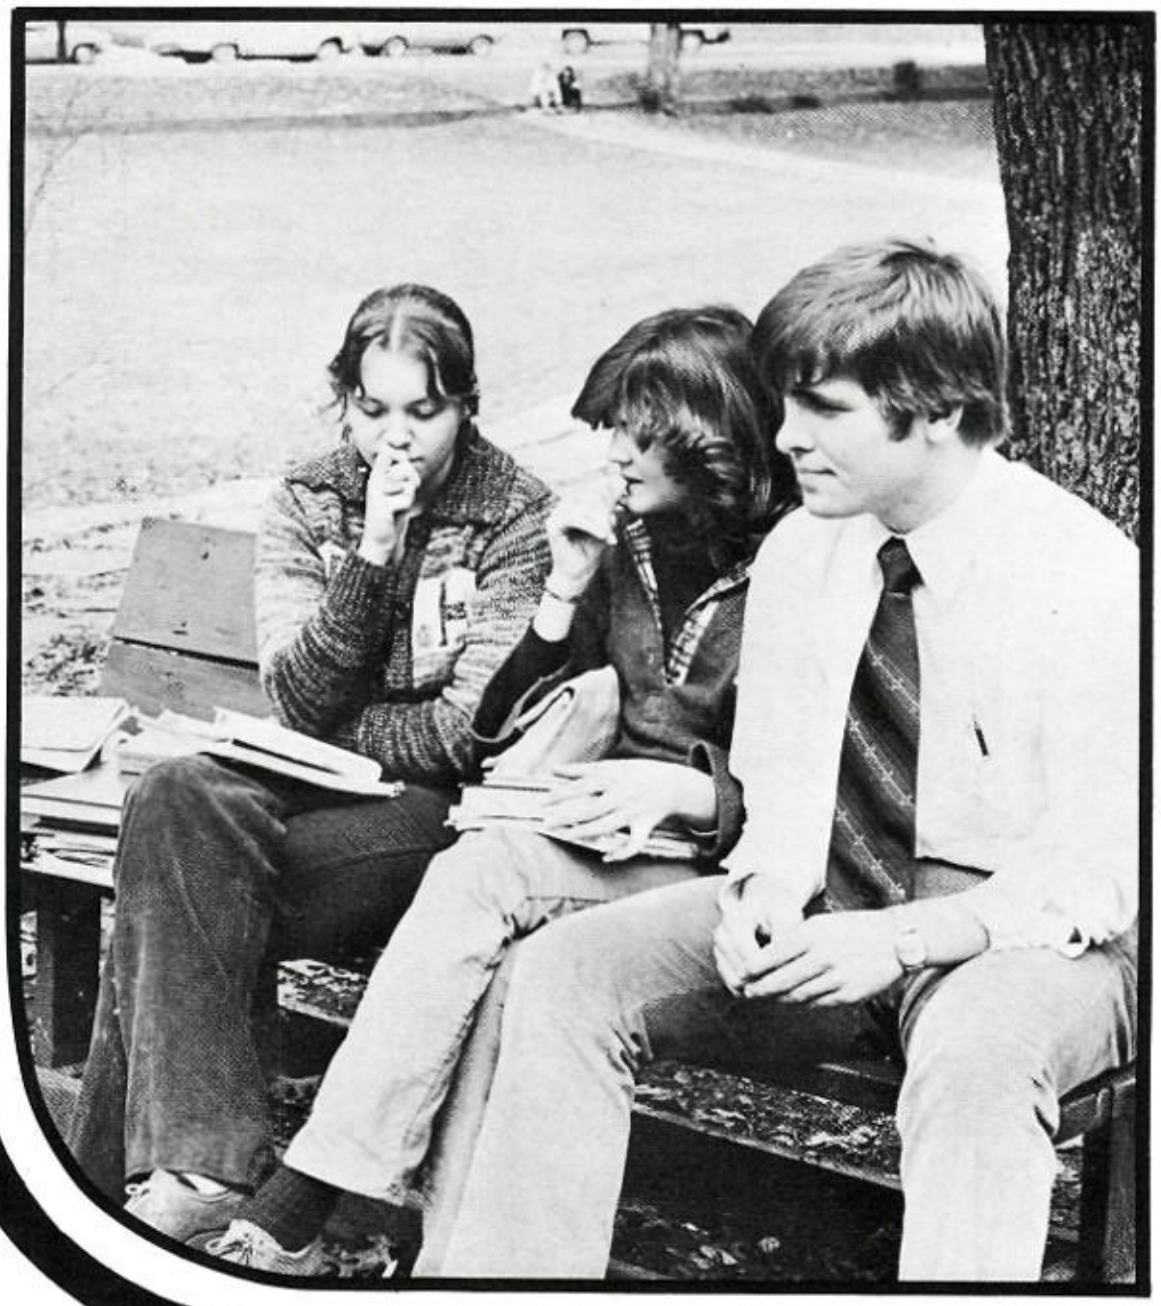
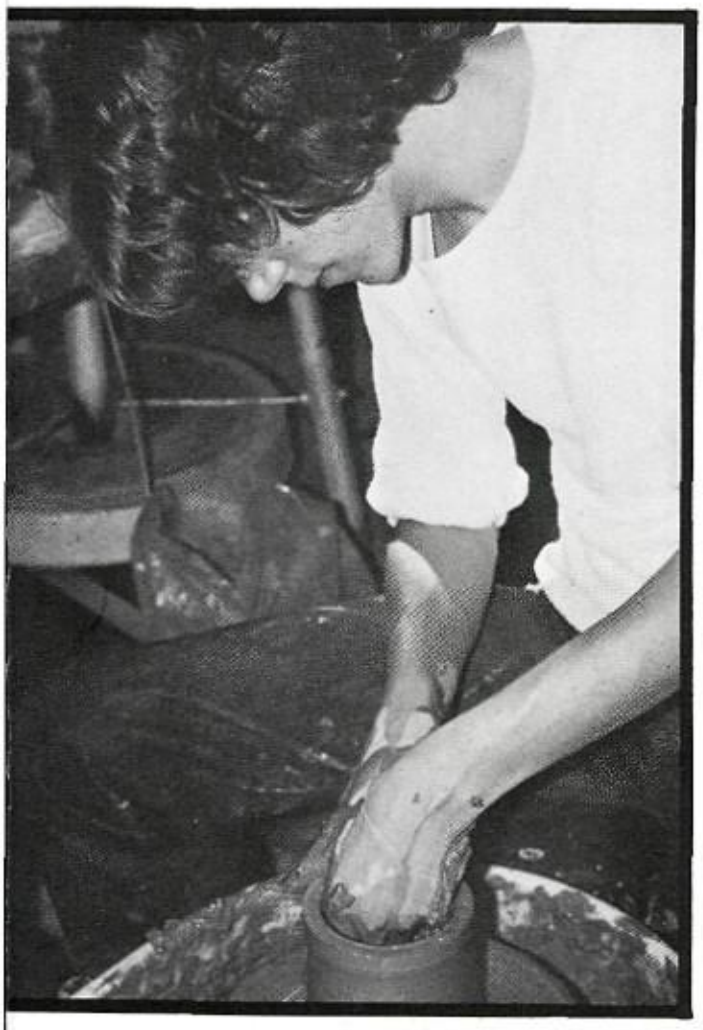
Student Life

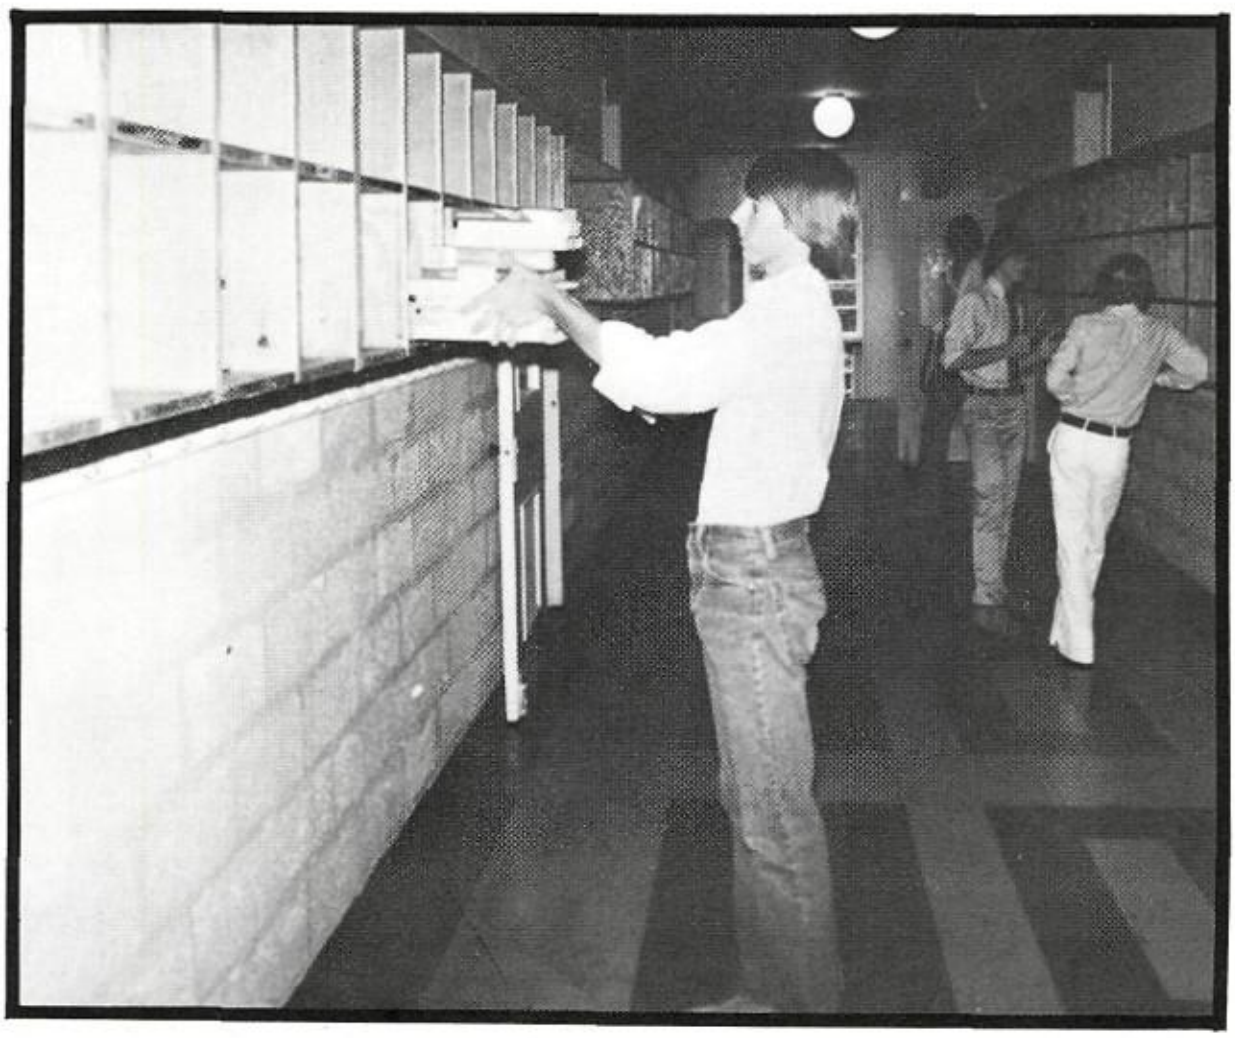


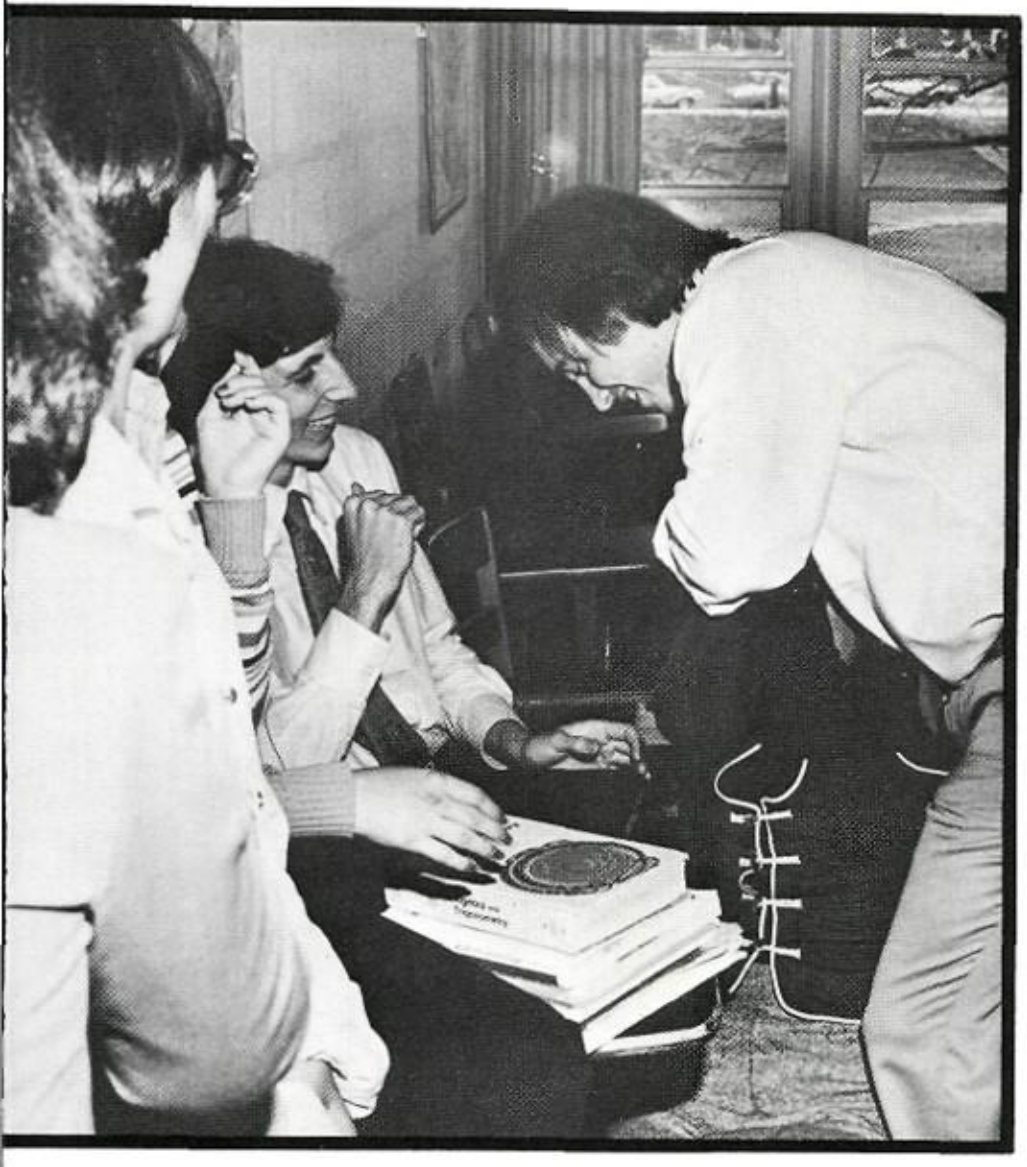


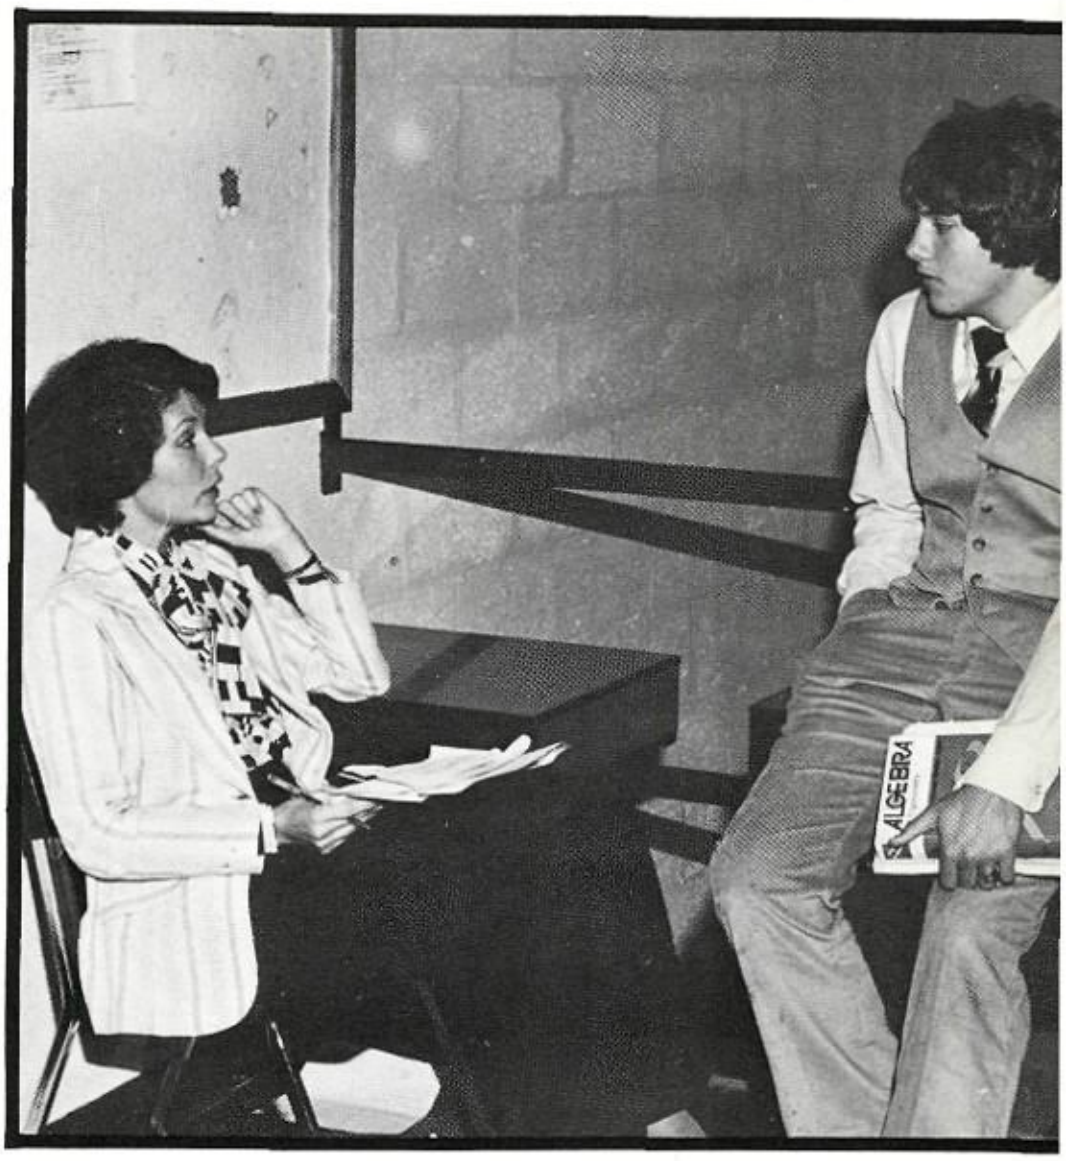
I like to see a boy have both intelligence and character. But if he can't have both, he should have character.

--Sawney Webb

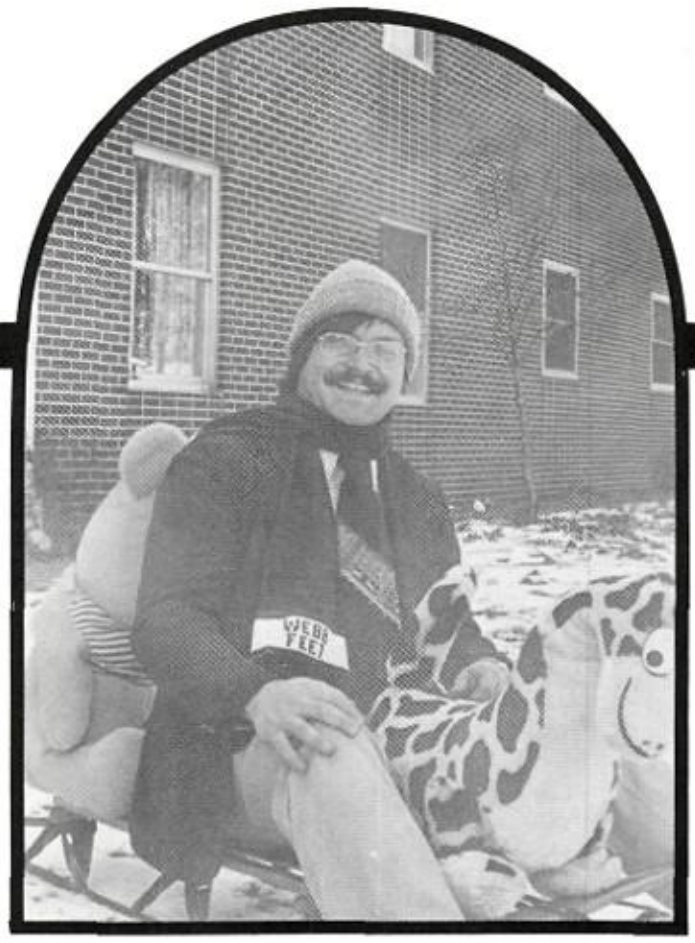








The Social Committee



The role which a faculty advisor plays in his organization is largely up to him. Mr. Shachmut has chosen to work very closely with the Social Committee this year. As a result of his active participation, a great deal of his enthusiasm and energy has infected the rest of the group. The members of the Social Committee would like to take this opportunity to give "Mr. Fun" a well-deserved Thanks.

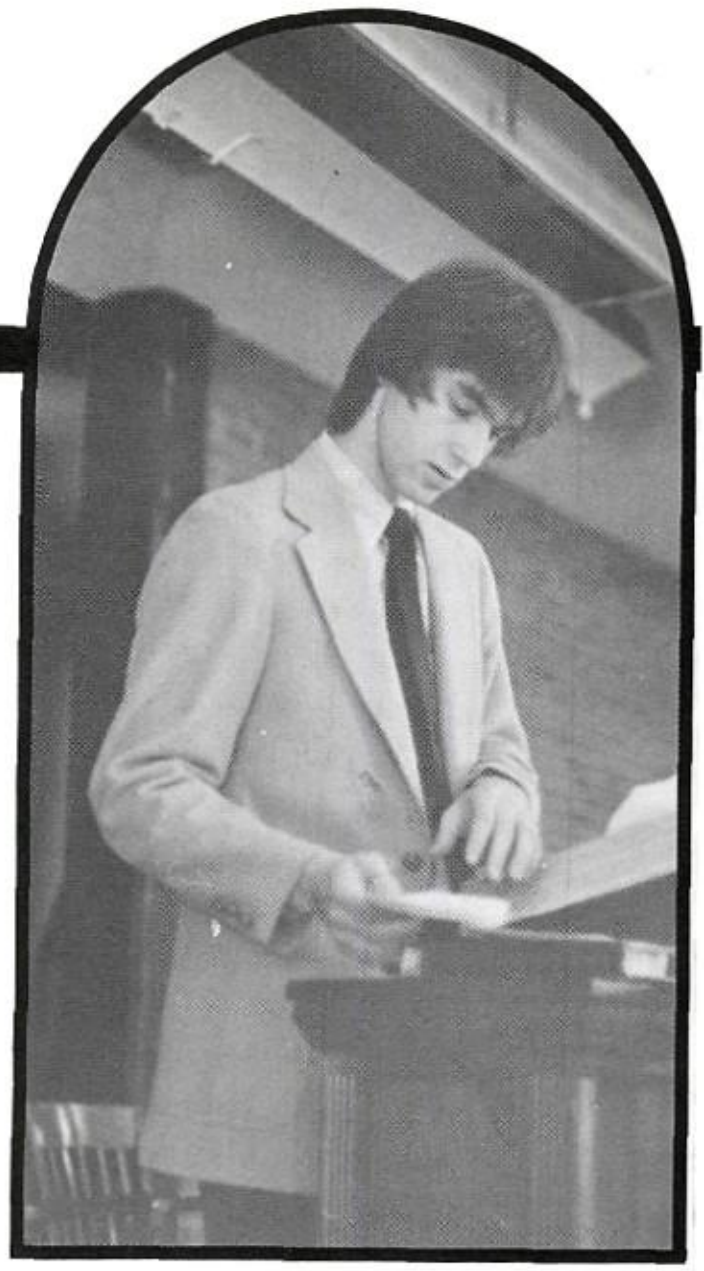
The Social Committee is a student organization with the job of providing recreational activities for members of the Webb community. The committee tries to provide enough different activities so that everyone will find something appealing. Activities this year range from dances to trips into Murfreesboro and Shelbyville.

Due partially to the dormant atmosphere of Bell Buckle and due largely to the hard, conscientious work of the Social Committee, students at Webb have not been short of entertainment.

Tim Lankford

The Prefects



All Webb students know about the Prefects. They are present every day in the lives of both day students and boarders. The Prefects try to enforce the basic civil code of the school. As in the case with most people who enforce rules, the situation often becomes awkward. People disagree with some of our decisions and we even confront dilemmas among ourselves. But our main objective is to make life at Webb run a little more smoothly for everyone. It often has been a difficult job during this year of change, but we believe that the Prefects have succeeded in 1977-78.

Honor Council

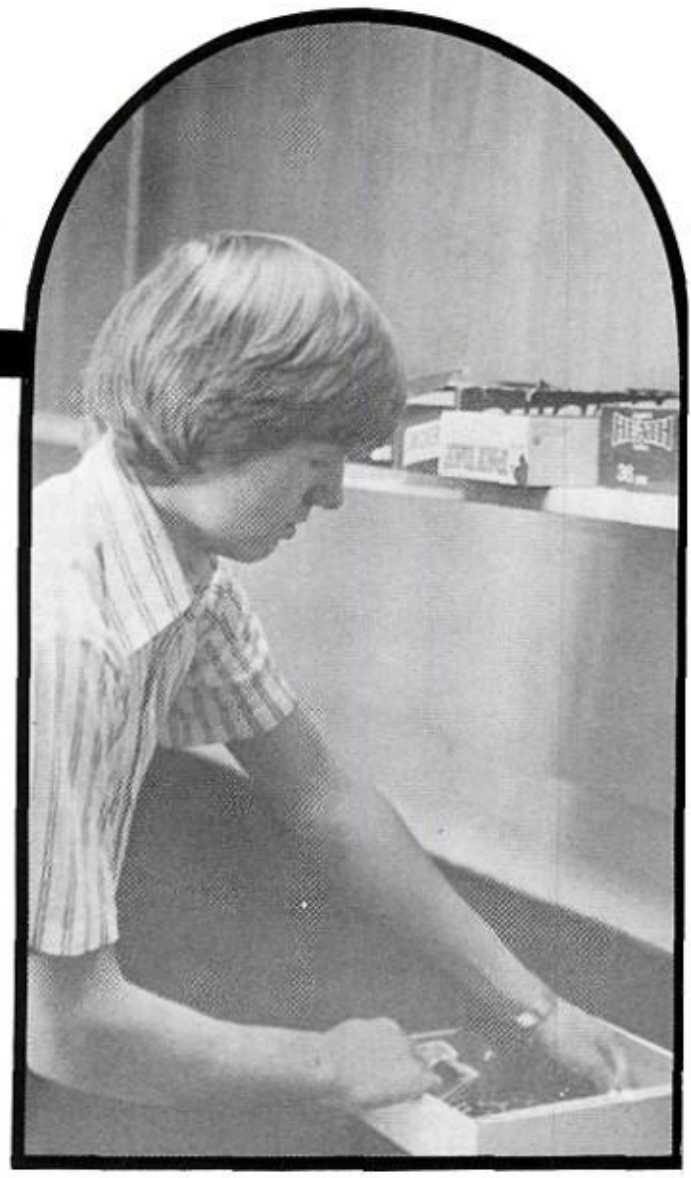
In every type of society there are rules or laws which are binding and incumbent upon all the members of that society. Webb School is founded upon these principles of honesty, and through their enforcement by the Honor Council, a high sense of character and personal integrity can be developed.

The Honor Council is composed of four seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and one freshman. The Council deals with the major honor offenses such as lying, cheating, stealing, plagiarism, and pledge violations. Much precious time has been spent this year reviewing cases and I firmly believe that almost every minute spent has resulted in some better understanding of honor.

Lee Woosley

Interact



This year's Interact Club has done an exceptional job serving the Webb community. In an attempt to reach areas of need more effectively, the club is divided into three groups: Community Relations, Conservation, and Tutorial. The club has undertaken such projects as a Christmas food distribution, an aluminum can recycling program, the running and maintenance of the new student lounge, and the financing of AFS students.

This year has been a year of greater accomplishment for Interact. It is our hope that the club will continue on its present trend of growth, thus aiding and improving the community.

Many clubs and organizations are formed with specific goals in mind. The President's Club consists of a group of sixteen bright young men and women, whose objective is one of service projects for the school. However, we take as much time as needed on our projects and I would not be surprised if we end the year by doing only what we do best- nothing. The members of the President's Club are highly skilled at the art of doing nothing (which we firmly believe is an art). With its relaxed attitude and honesty, the President's Club has quickly become one of the most popular organizations on campus.

The National Honor Society is an organization of exceptional students from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. Although there are no rigid qualifications for admission to the society, a committee of faculty members selects students on the basis of Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Honor. Attaining membership in this society is indeed an honor.

Cum Laude Society

The purpose of the Cum Laude Society is to recognize those seniors (or outgoing juniors) who demonstrate superior scholarship. The motto of the society is "Excellence, Justice, and Honor." Membership into the Cum Laude Society is one of the highest honors that a student can receive.

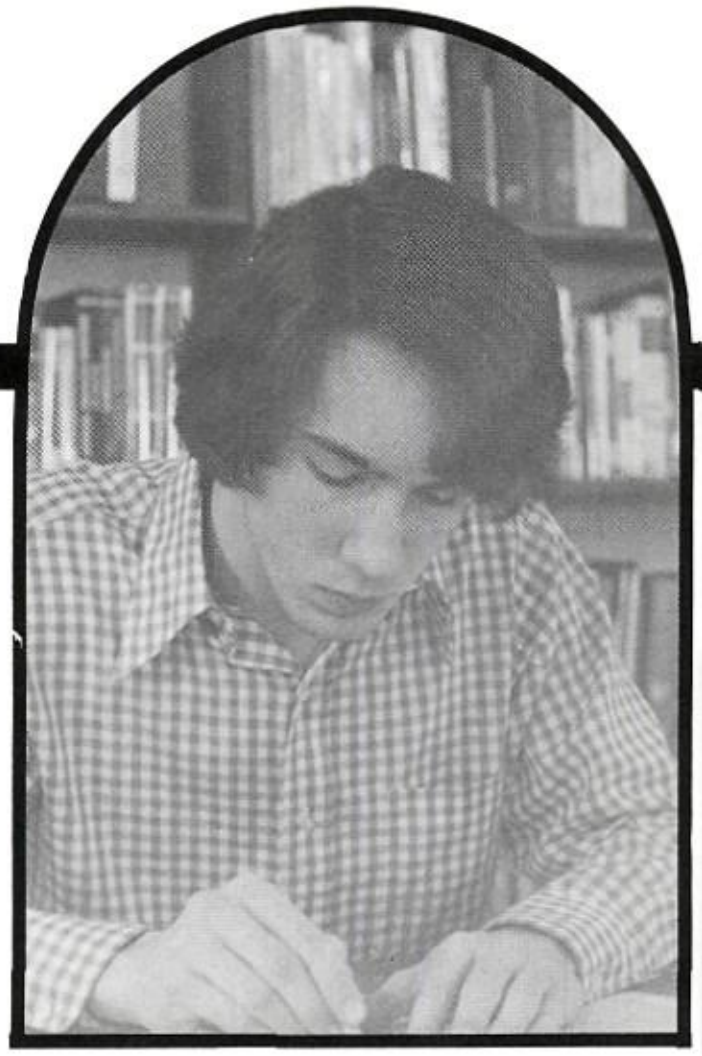
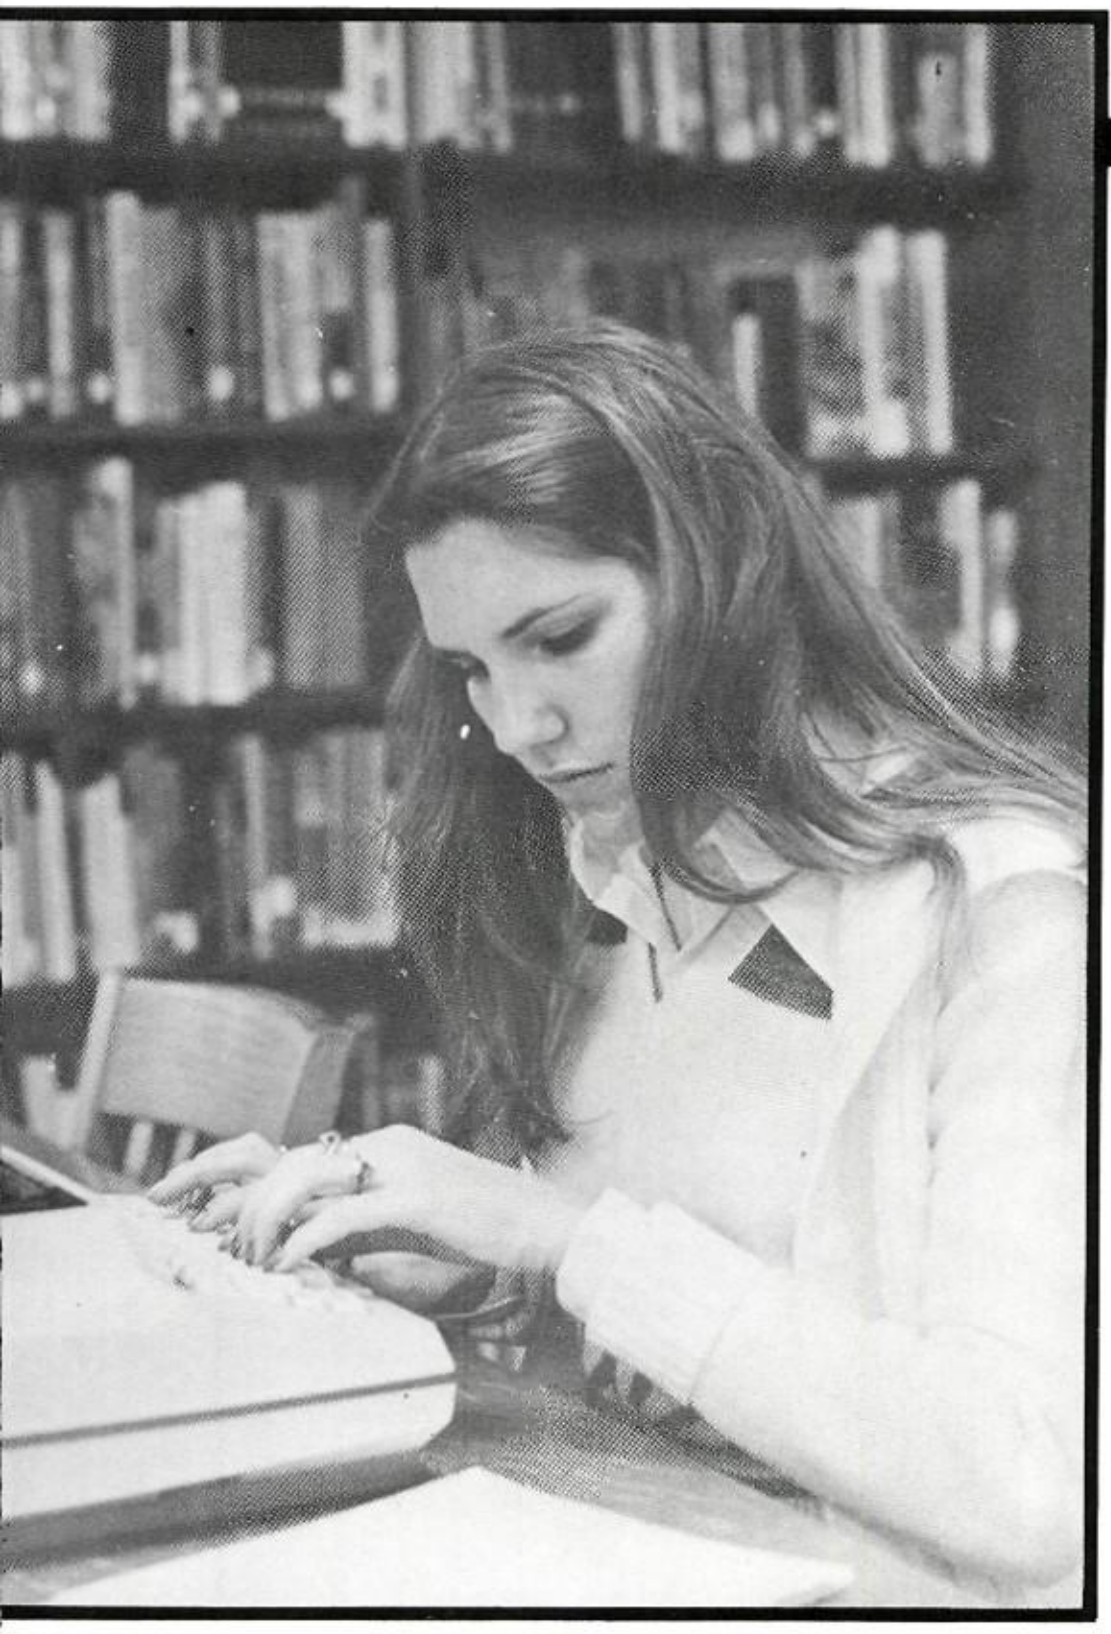
The Sawney Staff

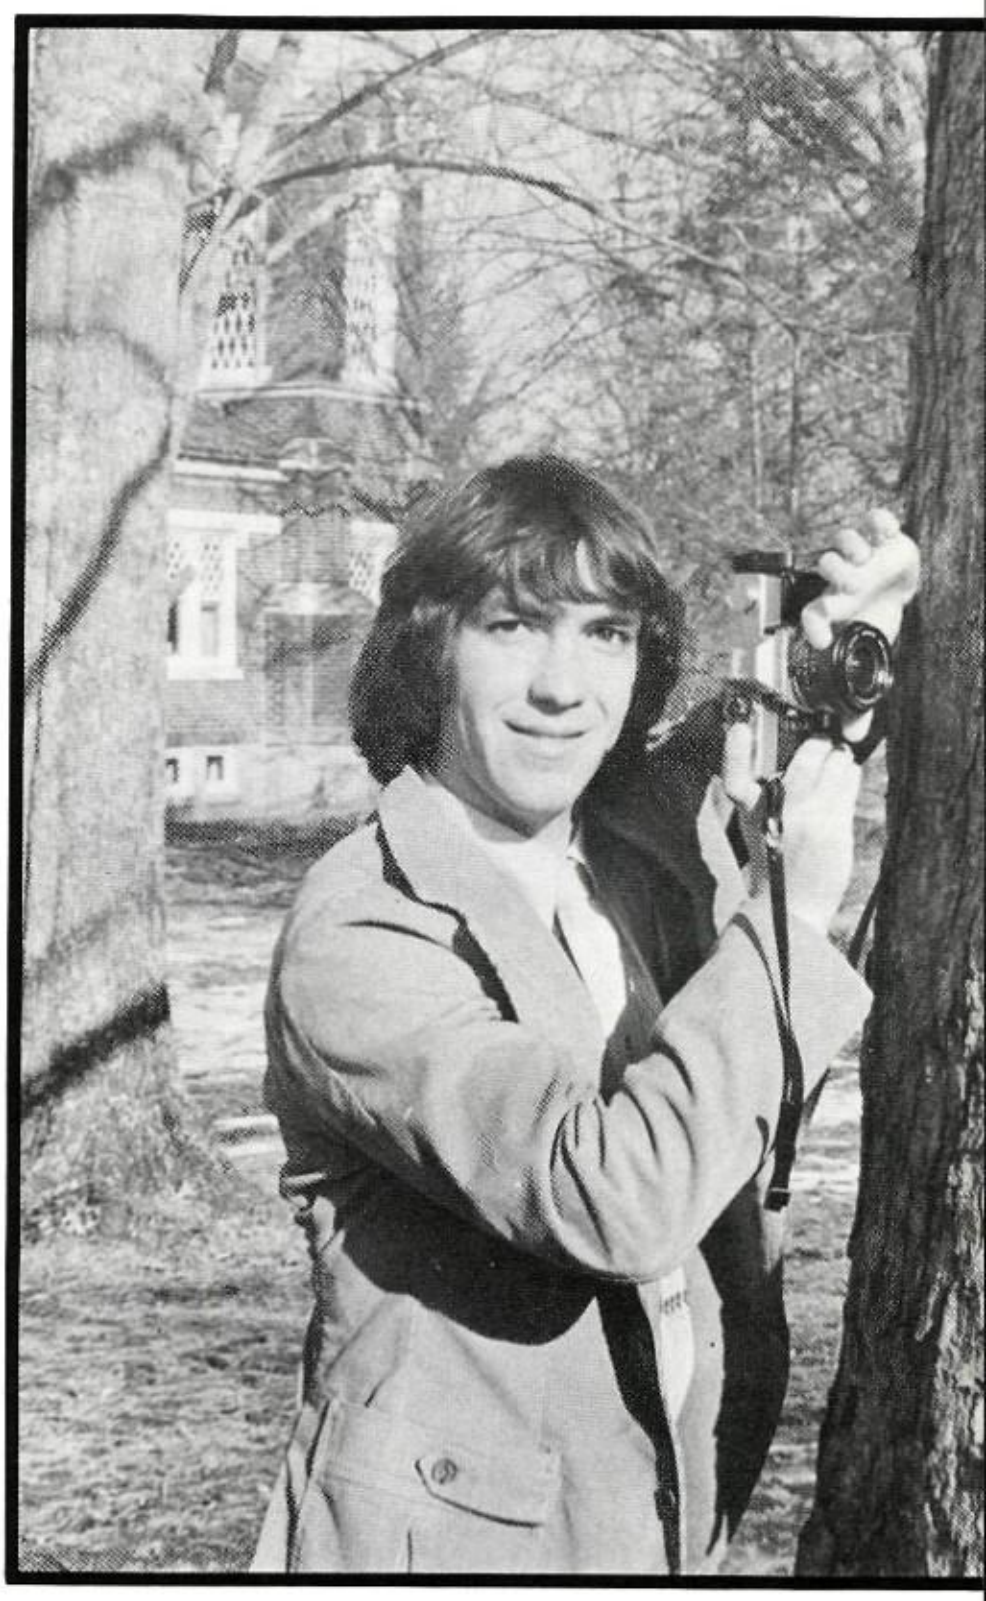


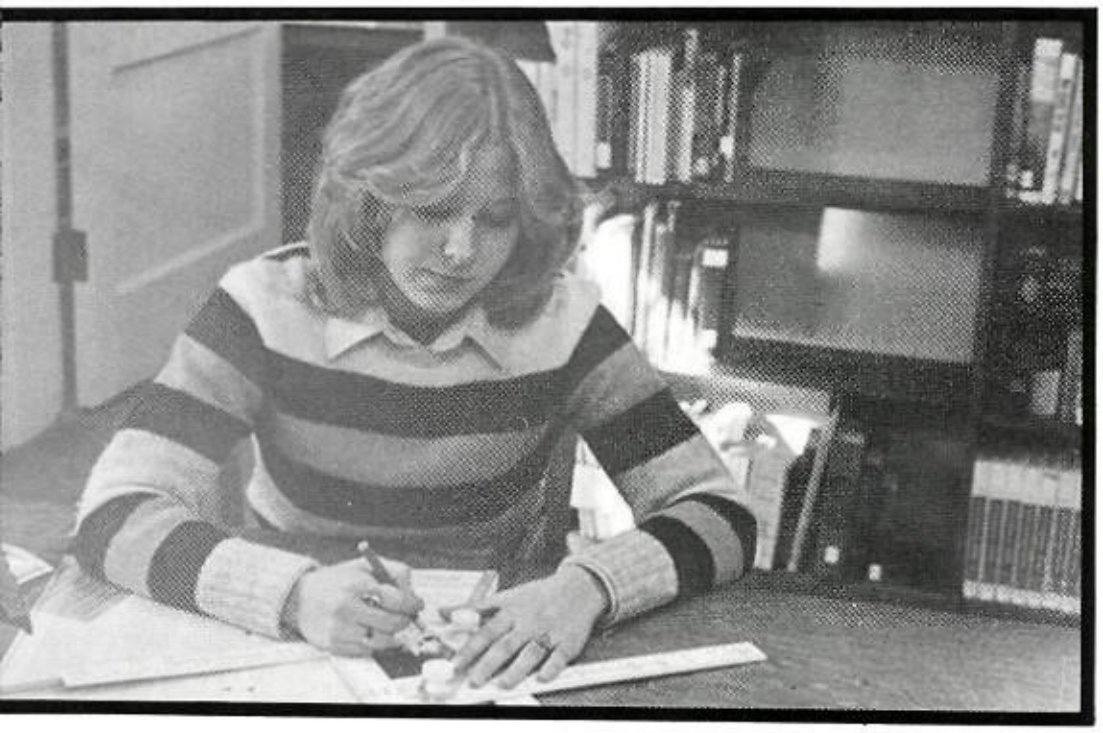
Producing THE SAWNEY was a task which required a great deal of hard work and creativity. This year's SAWNEY staff, although somewhat inexperienced, enthusiastically accepted this job. Naturally our main purpose was to create the best yearbook possible. In order to do this, a larger participation by students was encouraged. By employing a greater number, the yearbook was developed in a much more efficient manner. Although the staff ran into its share of difficulties, by working together it was able to surmount its obstacles.

Jim Mathes

LADDER: Randy Richards, Mary Roberts, Jim Mathes, Amy Turner, Lisa Roberts, Tim Lankford, Bruce Looney.







The Webb Press

THE WEBB PRESS has completed its second official year. The staff and Mr. MacGregor have worked to overcome many problems. The paper has been a second or third activity to most of us involved; therefore the organization and production has been time-consuming.

We, the staff, thank the student body for suggestions, input, and patience. Hopefully THE WEBB PRESS will continue its growth and development into a successful part of the Webb society-its purpose always being that of an outlet for the thoughts of the students.

The Oracle

The purpose of the ORACLE is to give students a chance to show their literary talents. Although participation was not as large this year as it has been in the past, those involved applied themselves steadily. Hopefully with the experience the staff has gained this year, next year's ORACLE will be of the traditional Webb excellence.

Billy Hardin

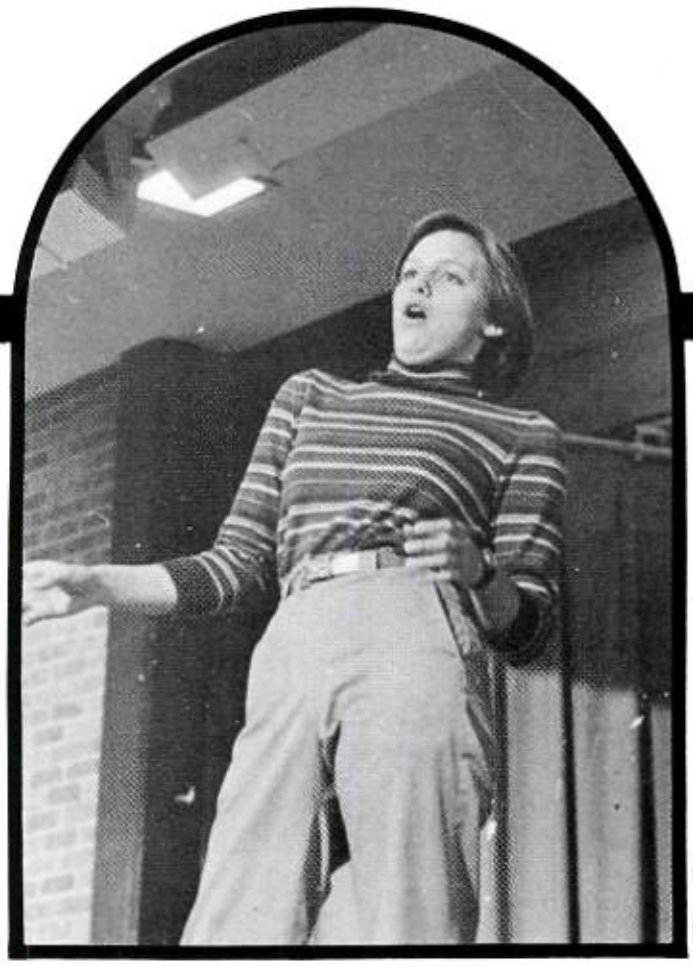
Speech And Drama



In the past three years the Webb speech department has grown progressively and expanded. This year the Speech team has participated in several tournaments across Middle Tennessee. Students have performed in such events as Poetic Interpretation, Dramatic Interpretation, Prose Reading, Oratory, Extemporaneous Speaking, Radio Broadcasting, Duet Acting, and Readers' Theater. Through participation in these events, each student has gained a greater degree of confidence and poise.

This year's Drama Department is a small but very active group of students who find acting a welcome release from various pressures. We are fortunate to have Mrs. Linda Seay as director. An accomplished actress in her own right, Mrs. Seay brings to Webb much enthusiasm and vigor. In addition to this spring's performance of HARVEY, a light-hearted comedy by Mary Chase, Mrs. Seay hopes to have a senior play performed for graduation. She has taken steps to enlarge the makeup and wardrobe departments, and hopes to further instruct students in the mechanics of drama.

Soccer

Varsity Team

Success in athletics cannot always be measured by the number of games won. The Webb Feet soccer team, plagued by narrow defeats, realized that sports means more than winning. It means companionship, team effort, self-discipline, and growth.

Perhaps the season is best illustrated by the two defeats of Webb by Oak Ridge High School. Both games were decided by overtime penalty kicks. All games were very close with teams well matched, but Webb lacked the experience to win these close games. For the first time, Webb participated in the prestigious Bollingbrook Invitational Soccer Tournament. Webb finished sixth among a group of eastern soccer powers. Hopefully with the knowledge the returning players have gained, next year the Webb Feet will stomp.

Varsity Team

This year's basketball team was very new. Only one starter returned from last year's team. Also the squad had to adjust to techniques of a new coach. Players began preparation in late October and worked extremely hard for four long months. The players were enthusiastic, but lacked actual game experience.

The Webb Feet record was disappointing, but progress was made as is reflected by the fourth place finish in the district tournament and advancement to the regional tournament. This improvement is a reflection of the abundant young talent which makes Webb's basketball future look very bright.

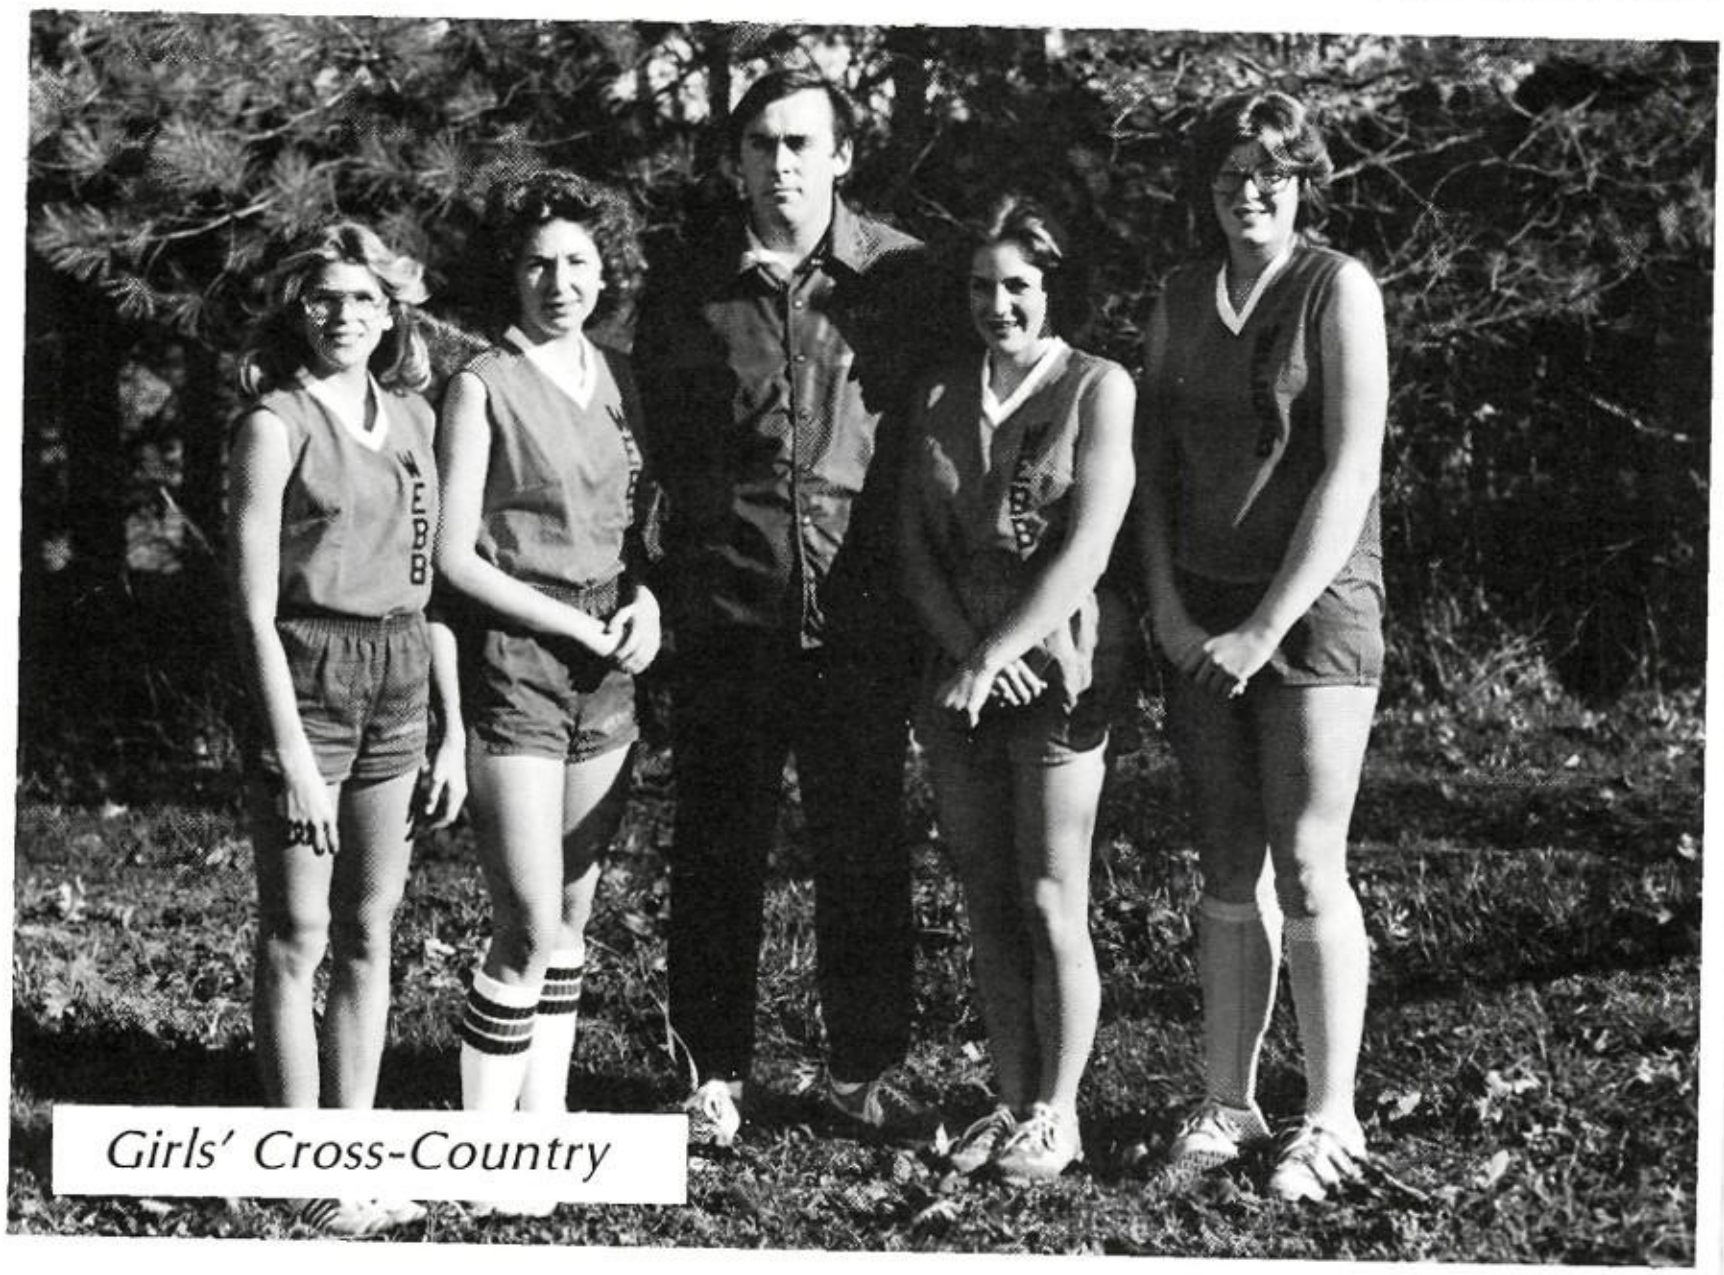
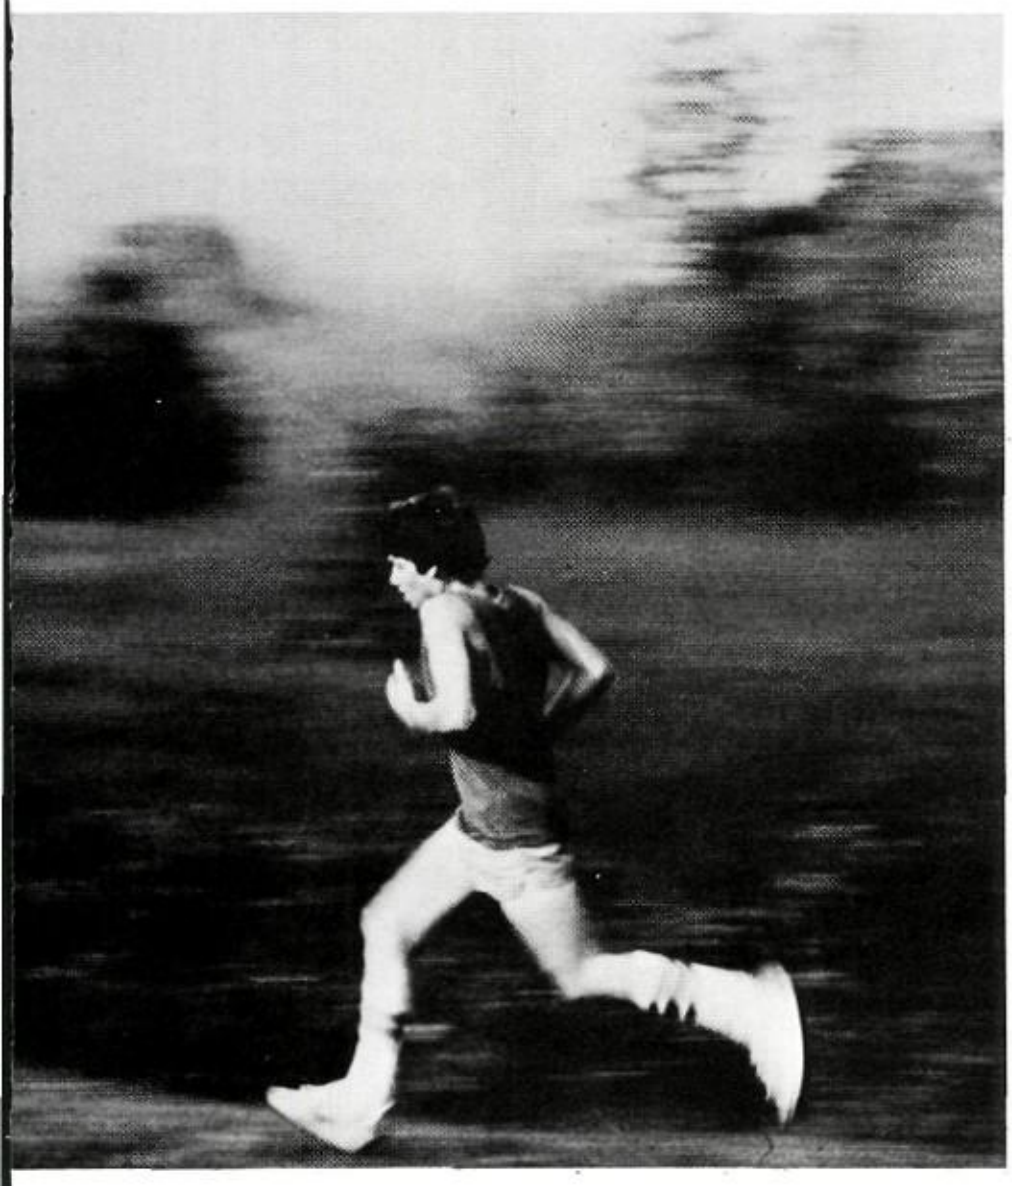
Boys' Cross-Country



Girls' Cross-Country

Track Team



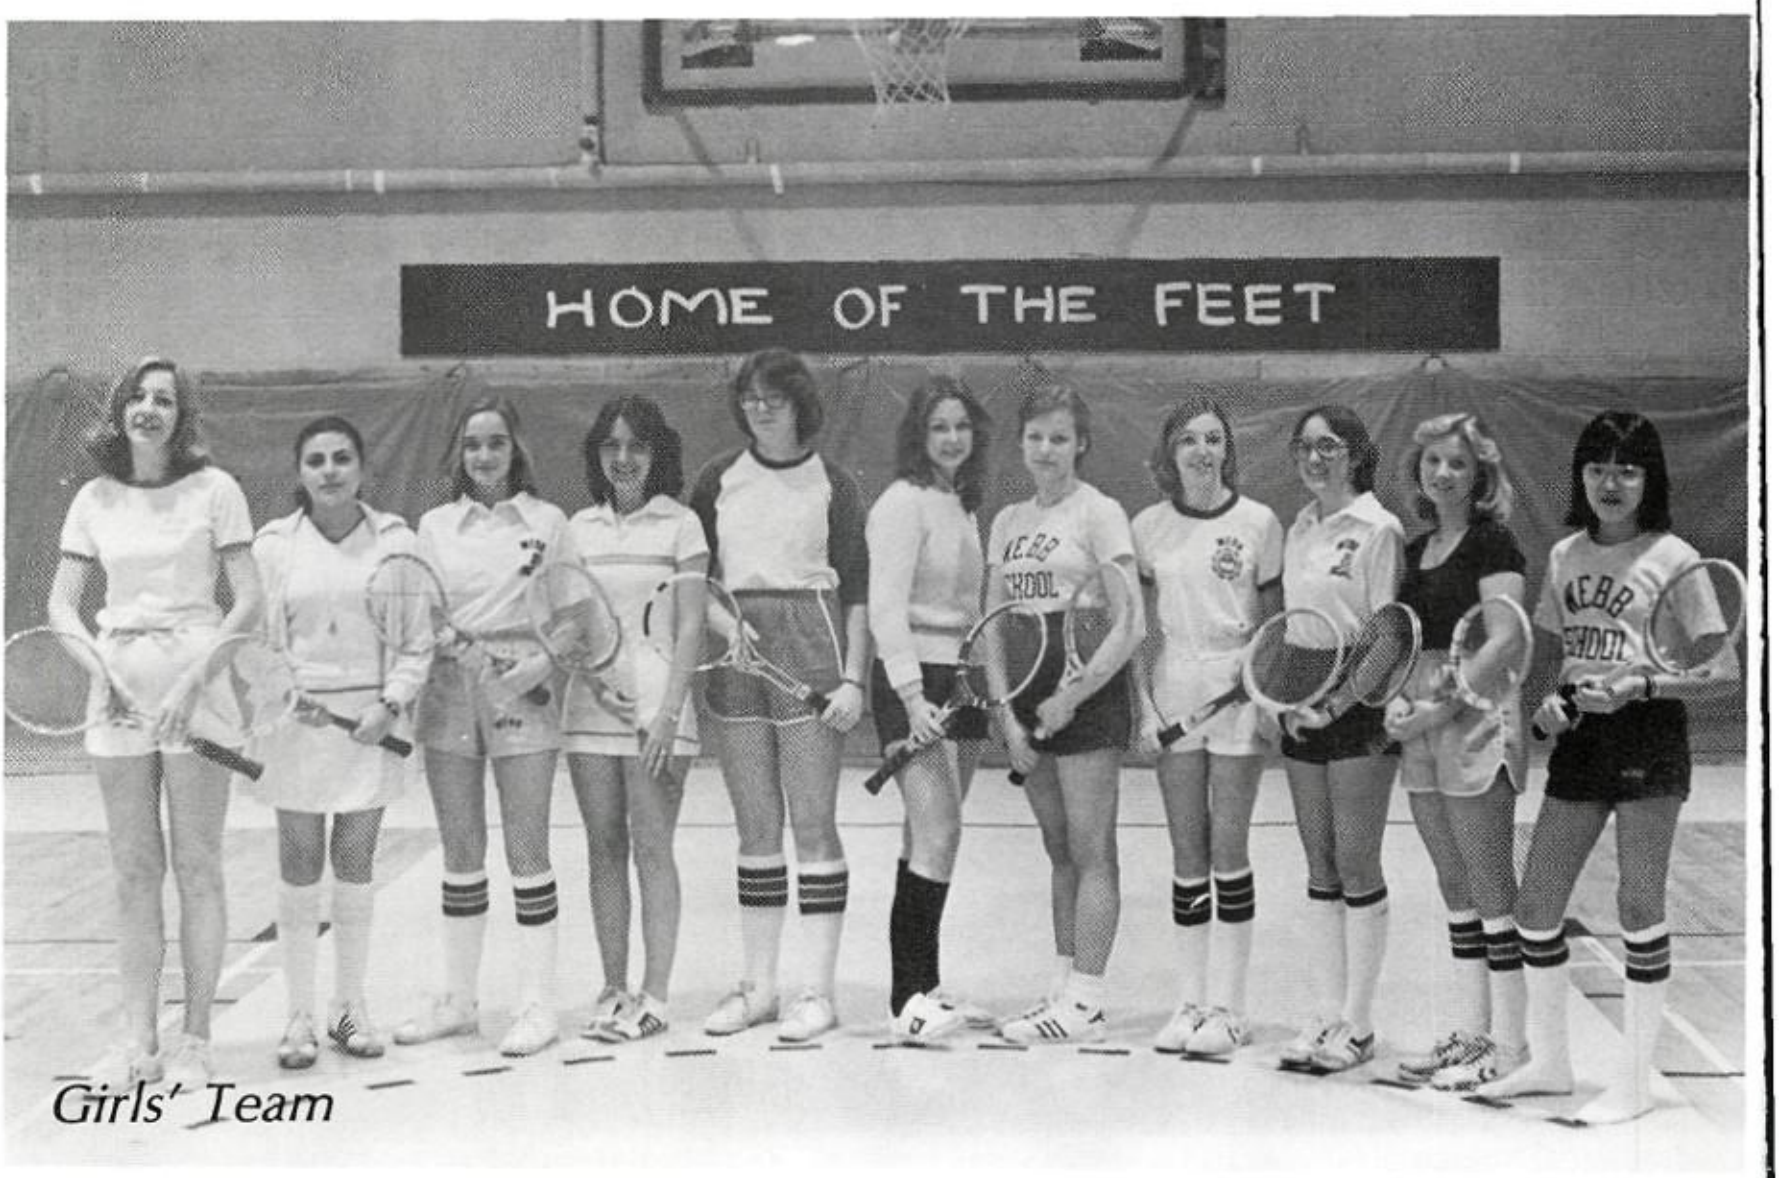
1977-78 saw the return of cross-country to Webb. The team was successful competing against other experienced runners. Even though cross-country has a team concept, it is still an individual sport. Probably the most outstanding performance was made by Robert Willis at the David Lipscomb College Cross-Country Invitational where he finished fourteenth out of 156 runners.

Cross-country requires great self-discipline since many hours are spent running in preparation for competition. Participation for running competition will always remain limited to a dedicated few because of the sport's demanding nature.

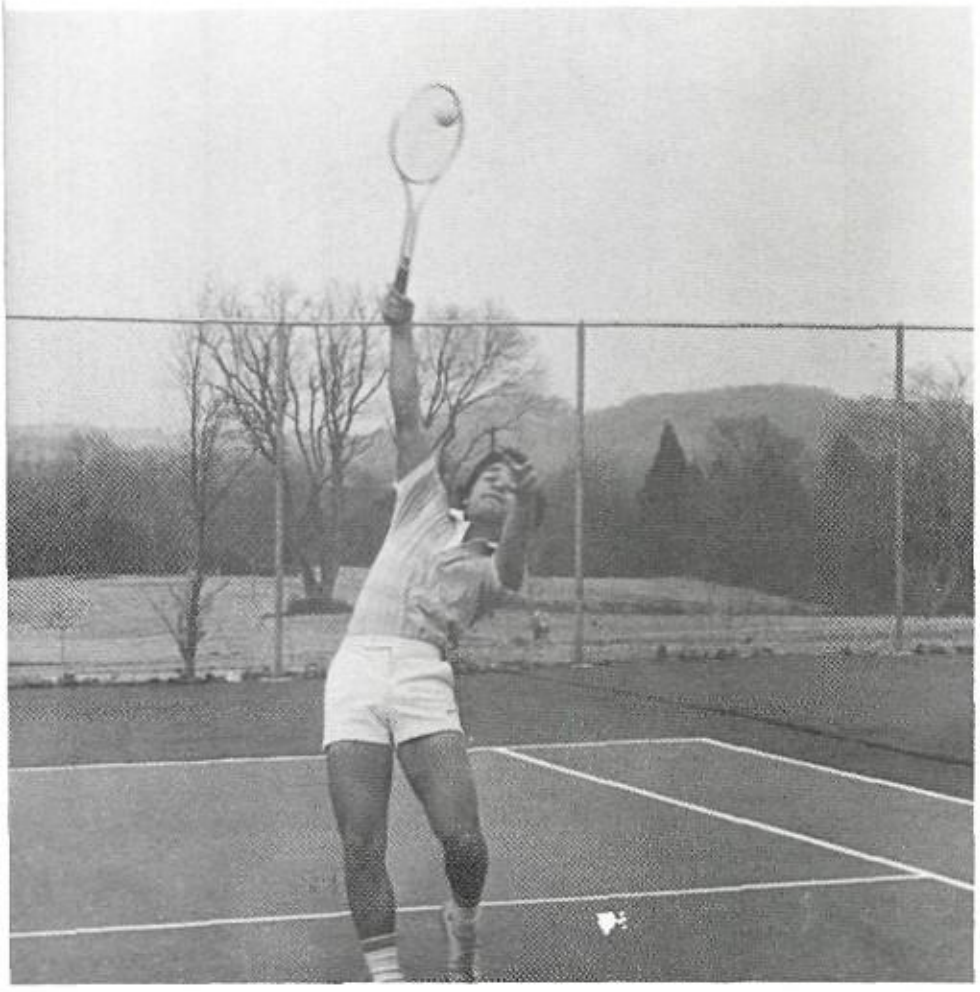
This spring the cross-country program is expanded to include track. The team has joined the Southern Middle Tennessee Track Conference. This expansion has increase the number of running events. Such an increase indicates the popularity of cross-country and track at Webb.

Tennis

Boys' Team



Girls' Team



The tennis program at Webb has expanded to include both a girls' and boys' team. Both teams had a fall practice in preparation for the spring season. The early preparation and talent of the team makes this year very successful for tennis at Webb.

With the great increase in size of both tennis teams, organizing the practices became a major task. Coaches Bob Gay and Linda Barnes have done an admirable job. Their work has made tennis one of the most popular sports at Webb.

Karate

Webb's newest sport is a karate team started by Ben Alexander. Since the sport is not very well known in this area, most of the participants were having their first real experience with karate. Members of the team spent much time on physical conditioning and learning the basics. Karate demands much dedication and time. Although it is Webb's most unusual sport, if the present interest continues, karate will increase in popularity.

Deluxe 8-Track Tape Deck

8-Track Tape Recorder/Player with 2-VU meters, pause, fast forward and auto-stop.

Front-Load Cassette Tape Deck w/Dolby ®

A fully automatic cassette tape recorder/player with Dolby Noise Reduction. Designed to keep wow and flutter to an imperceptible minimum (.1% or less). Has memory rewind, VU meters, full auto-stop operation and much more.

Professional Level Automatic Turntable

A two speed automatic turntable with belt drive. Magnetic cartridge for superb separation (Diamond Stylus), viscous damped cue control, anti-skate, 12" die cast platter and 4-pole sync. motor.

Magnificent Hutch-Style Cabinetry

It takes massive Mediterranean Pecan colored cabinetry to contain the elaborate array of electronic features. Step-front styling and woven wire grillework covers the air-suspension speaker systems. Simulated Carpathian Elm panels grace the sliding hutch doors; tambour doors conceal the color TV. A masterpiece in fine cabinetry.

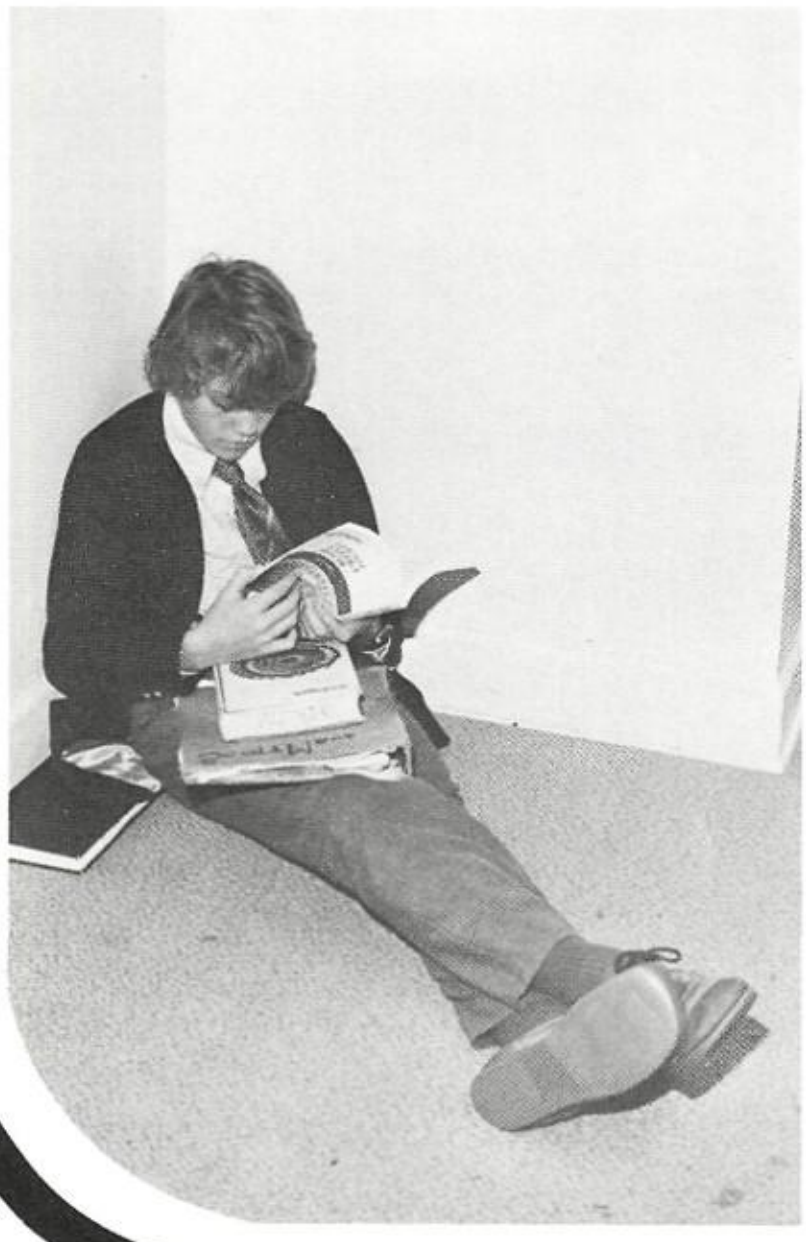
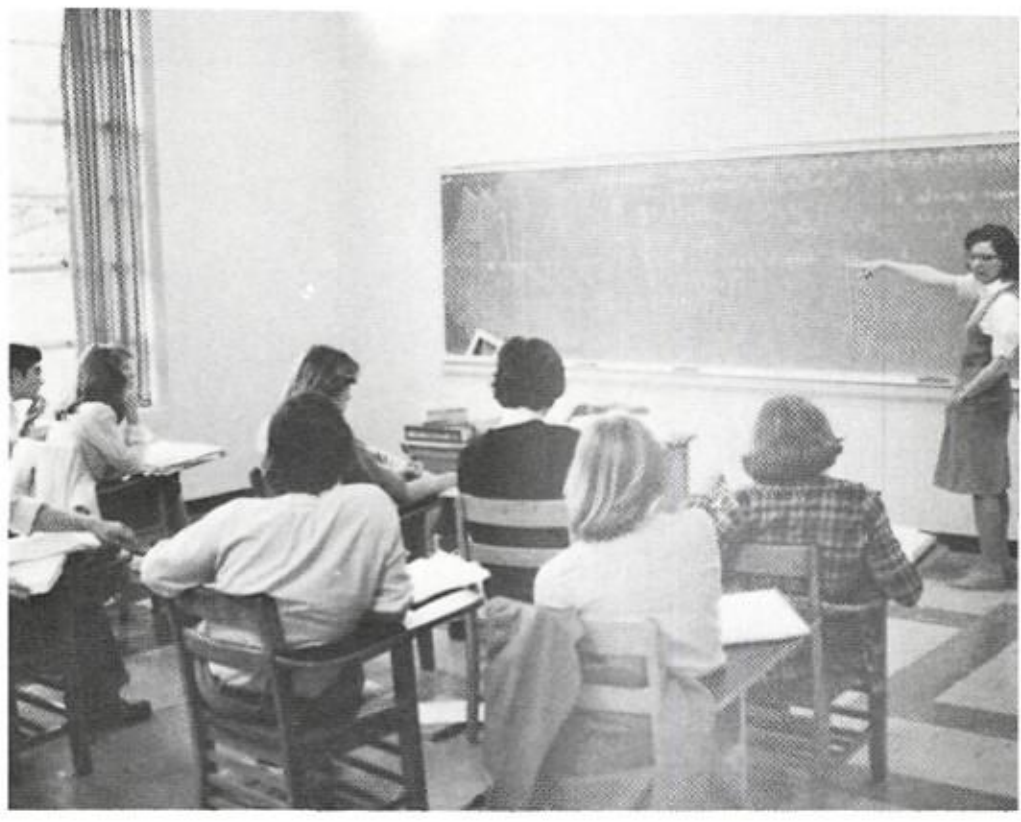
In Conclusion

As the year 1977-78 draws to a close, each of us has had the opportunity to experience life in Bell Buckle. Although there have been many good times and some bad times, hopefully we have learned and grown from all these experiences. As we go our separate ways we will always cherish the friendships and memories of these years.





. . . lead a large life. A large life is no mere piffle but one that makes the world better because you have lived. If the world is better because of you, you are a wonderful success.

--Sawney Webb

The completion of the 1978 Sawney represents many hours of hard work on the part of several people. It would be impossible to mention all those who participated in the production of this yearbook. But I would like to thank the members of the Sawney staff, the faculty and administration, and our patrons.

Hopefully we have succeeded in our purpose: to create a book accurately recording the year's events which will be enjoyed both at the time of its publication and for years to come.
